Chamber leads effort against drugs

by KATIE KUEHNER
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce, the Village of Antioch Drug Task Force and local schools are gearing up for Red Ribbon Week, Oct. 20 - 28. The organizations are giving the nationwide campaign for a drug-free America a local flavor by emphasizing to area businesses and schoolchildren the need to eliminate illegal drug usage in Antioch.

The Red Ribbon Campaign originated when Federal Agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The red ribbon became the symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages in Iran.

According to the Peg Ransom, public relations consultant for the chamber, members will receive ribbons to distribute to employees to wear throughout the week. Additionally, there will be a large red banner outside the chamber office advertising the campaign.

"The chamber is trying to emphasize this year substance abuse awareness, prevention and intervention," Ransom said. "There is a staggering amount of work absences, loss time on manufacturing accidents and general work inefficiency due to the abuse of unprescribed and prescribed drugs and alcohol, and we'd like to do something about that."

She said over 46 chamber members have signed an agreement to participate in "Antioch Businesses Supporting Drug and Alcohol Free Workplaces". "This includes creating and publicizing company personnel policies regarding workplace usage of drugs and alcohol," Ransom said.

"With substance abuse, productivity decreases, but insurance rates and workman's compensation increase."

The local schools will also get involved with the campaign. According to Cathy Cratty, Antioch schools' unofficial sponsor of Red Ribbon Week, grade school children will not only receive ribbons, but also coloring books that feature issues about substance abuse. "Additionally, the pre-schools will show two videos dealing with feelings about substance abuse," Cratty said.

According to Dick Jorgensen, the new director of the Antioch Drug Task Force, the force will provide the school children with pins for their ribbons. The task force will also tie large ribbons around downtown trees and parking meters in observance of the campaign.

With the week-long campaign, the organizations hope to build the bridge from apathy to action about drugs and alcohol in Antioch.

Burris had his political feet wet at early age

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When most of his classmates at Centralia High School were concerned with a new fad called rock-and-roll, or making sure their hair was in the latest fashion, Roland Burris was beginning his career in politics.

"We integrated the swimming pool," Burris recalled.

His audience was much different this

Thursday afternoon than in 1953. Instead of convincing the city fathers of Centralia, Ill., Burris was bringing an upbeat message of encouragement to an auditorium of attentive North Chicago Community High School students.

Burris recalled his upbringing, his road in politics, urging the students to get involved and obstacles he had to overcome along the way. On Nov. 6, Burris hopes to add another notch on his political resume - that of attorney general for the state of Illinois. Burris has been comptroller for 12 years before seeking the highest legal office in the state. He is opposed by Republican Jim Ryan.

At age 16, just after the swimming pool victory, Burris set some grand goals. One was to become a lawyer, a second to become a state-wide elected official.

Burris, after graduating from Southern Illinois University, had planned to attend Howard University in Washington, D.C. and obtain one of his goals - a law degree. He had just studied international law in Hamburg, Germany. The path to Springfield did not start out smoothly.

He recalled how he stayed at a person's home in Washington after meeting that person on the train from Illinois. With $1.75 in his pocket, he took a job cleaning toilets in the Washington dormitories.

Later, he thought the hurdles were clear when he had obtained a law degree and achieved a position at a bank. His first task: working in the trust division of Livestock National Bank, he stapled tax returns.

"They were having white students in the training programs and here I was, with a law degree, stapling tax returns. I asked the vice president about this and he said, 'you will have to be 10 times better than your white counterparts'."

In 1978, Burris began his popularity with the voters when he gained 1.5 million votes. In 25 years, he had obtained his second goal: be elected to state-wide office.

In 1982 and 1986 he led the Democratic ticket winners as Gov. James Thompson won reelection.

As for his next challenge, if elected attorney general, Burris said he has devised a 14-point anti-drug plan. This would include penalties for dealers, treatment for those addicted to drugs and education for the young.

Burris points with pride to a law he supported and signed by Gov. Thompson regarding a drug-free work force. This includes training teachers to learn what to watch for in behavior of students who may have drug problems.

Burris made a whirl-wind tour of Lake County Thursday. He brought with him an announcement that he won the endorsement of the 22,000 members of the Fraternal Order of Police.

Burris also visited the super regional mall Gurnee Mills, talking with union construction workers. He later met with College of Lake County officials.

Rte. 53 meetings set for Oct. 11, 25

The Public Service Committee of the Lake County Board has scheduled two public hearings concerning the proposed expressway extension of Illinois Rte. 53. The purpose is to give county residents an opportunity to express their feelings about the controversial project.

They will be the only public hearings before the state legislature takes up the subject after the November election.

The first hearing will be on Thursday, Oct. 11, at 7:30 p.m. at Lake Zurich High School on Midlothian Rd. north of Rte 22 (Main St.).

The second hearing will be on Thursday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m. at Brae Loc Country Club in Grayslake, on Rte 45 north Rte 120.

Representatives of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) and the Illinois

Toll Highway Authority have been asked to attend and report on what they are doing now, explain the rationale for the entire project, and answer questions from the audience. Members of the Illinois legislature who represent Lake County also have been invited.

According to County Board Dist. 6 Representative Roberta O'Reilly the hearings are being held "because IDOT and the Toll Highway Authority have declined to conduct public hearings on their own". Such hearings, she pointed out, are a requirement of the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) process.

Controversy has surrounded the proposed expressway project for 30 years, and has become a "hot topic in Springfield," O'Reilly noted. However, the issue was deferred during the recently concluded legislative session until after the Nov. 6 General Election.

Reflecting the majority view of her constituents, O'Reilly believes that the proposed highway has never been needed and isn't needed now. Lake County's traffic problems, she declared, are "east-west, not in the north-south direction the highway would take". DuPage County, she suggested, is a tragic example of what can happen when the state decides to build more expressways. "They exacerbate traffic congestion instead of relieving it," she stated.

Voters in southern Lake County hope that candidates for state office will be listening on Oct. 11 and 25. What is said on those two evenings is sure to influence a lot of votes.

Realtors endorse candidates

The Board of Directors of the Lake County Assoc. of Realtors has endorsed the following candidates for Lake County races in the 1990 November General Election:

Lake County Clerk - Linda Hess; Lake County Treasurer - Jack Anderson; Lake County Sheriff - Clinton Grinnell; Dist.

$1 candidates - Edna Schade and John Janowick; Dist. $2 candidates - Angelo Kyle and Matthew Miholic; Dist. #3 candidates - Jim LaBelle and Bonnie Murphy; Dist. #4 candidates - Charlotte Kiesgen; Dist. #5 candidate - Robert Depke; Dist. #6 candidates - Colin McRae and Robert Grever.

Historical Society to have war exhibit

"Antioch at War" will be the newest exhibit of the Lakes Region Historical Society. The display will be at the society's museum from Oct. 13 to Nov. 11 (Armistice Day).

According to Society Director Roberta Knirsch, the exhibit will feature articles and documents from the Civil War through the Vietnam Conflict.

"We have a letter from the Civil War front in Georgia written in German --- the fellow must have just gotten off the boat before leaving for war," Knirsch said.

Articles dating back to that time include saddle bags, uniforms and medals, and drumsticks used by a drummer on the front.

"We'll also have our newest acquisition featured -- a 44-star flag dating from the Spanish-American War," Knirsch said.

The society will display uniforms and medals, including purple hearts, from WWI, WWII, the Korean War as well as the Vietnam Conflict. It also will exhibit a gas mask from WWII and a machete from the Spanish-American War.

A special feature will be two photo boards of the Antioch men who served in WWII and in Vietnam.

The society will also have a side exhibit entitled, "The Home Front," featuring cookbooks and domestic articles from the various war eras.

"I've seen a lot of very dedicated people giving us their prized possessions," Knirsch said. "For a small museum, it's probably one of the better war displays I've seen."

The society meets every fourth Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on the corner of Depot and Main Sts. A speaker is featured and refreshments are usually served. The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 25.

Weddings

Leonard-Nolan

Sandra Leonard and Randy Nolan, both of Trevor, Wis., exchanged their wedding vows on Sept. 2 at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Antioch. Father Hanley officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Jude and Lillian Larson of Lake Havasu City, Ariz. She is a graduate of Antioch Community High School. She is co-owner of Antioch Quick Print, and Ready, Set, Print! in Lake Geneva, Wis. She is also a member of the Antioch Rotary Club and Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

The groom is the son of Robert Nolan of Mount Prospect and Rose Nolan of Powers Lake, Wis. He is a graduate of Wilmot High School and co-owner of Antioch Quick Print and Ready, Set, Print! in Lake Geneva. He is a member of the Lake Geneva Rotary Club and Lake Geneva Chamber of Commerce.

Kelley Vassau was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sheri Fries, Kathy Brown, and Susan Piehl. Kristin Leonard was the flower girl.

Dean Nolan served as the best man. Groomsmen included Dave Sarna, Jeff Lobus, Grey Olson, Jim Kiellander and Bob Smith were the ushers. Christopher Fries was the ring bearer.

A reception for the newly wed couple was held at Maravella's. A honeymoon trip to Arizona was taken.

The couple have made their home in Trevor, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Nolan

Forrest-Allison

Brandy Forrest and Terry Allison, both of Round Lake Beach, exchanged their wedding vows on Sept. 8 at St. Mark Lutheran Church in Lindenhurst. Rev. Daniel McKnight officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Gerald and Helen Cassidy of Round Lake and John and Lucy Forrest of Antioch. She is a graduate of Round Lake High School and employed at the Summit Restaurant in Wauconda.

The groom is the son of George and Alice Allison of Round Lake Beach. He is a graduate of Grayslake High School and employed as a night stock manager for Omni Foods.

Shari Trevithick was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Tammy Allison and Kathy Allison. Flower girls were Danielle Trevithick and Amanda Davtoski.

Tony Feltner served as the best man. Groomsmen included Bill Byer and Jerry Allison. Alan Rueter was the usher.

A reception for the newly wed couple was held at the Tiffany Room in Round Lake. A one week honeymoon trip was spent at a resort.

The couple have made their home in Round Lake Beach.

Pioneer program begins

The Lakes Region Historical Society is sponsoring a Pioneer Program -- the society will issue a pioneer certificate to direct descendents of early settlers of the Lakes Region.

To qualify for a pioneer certificate, applicants must be directly descended from an ancestor who settled in the region prior to the establishment of the Antioch Grade School, built in 1892. Some form of proof or documentation (copies of original papers) should be submitted in order to determine eligibility. The applicants need not be residents of the region.

According to the society, many of the early pioneers have gone unnoticed in history, so the pioneer program is a way to gather information about them and develop a data base for future research.

For further information, call E.J. Beese at (708) 395-1685.

Dist. 34 to present drug program

In support of Red Ribbon Week, Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 will be presenting a community program entitled "Growing Up Drug Free." Michelle Adams of the Lake County Health Dept. will be the presenter. The program will be held Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. in the AV Room of the Antioch Upper Grade School. All parents and community members are welcome.

A limited supply of "A Parents Guide to Prevention, Growing Up Drug Free" and "10 Steps to Help Your Child Say No" will be available free to those attending. Come early to assure obtaining these helpful booklets. Refreshments will be served.

For further information contact Phyllis Zora at (708) 395-1905.

Moose enrolls women

The Antioch Chapter Women of the Moose enrolled new members after ceremonies at the Moose College of Regents Chapt. Night.

New members are Jean Brenner, sponsored by Ruth Gussarson; Patricia Van Aster, sponsored by Mavis Dingsdale; Liz Genett, sponsored by Louise Gutowski; and Janet Johnson, sponsored by Mildred Lombardo.

Jr. Grad. Regent Marge Turner and Jr. Regent Cindy Kaminsky draped the charter in memory of co-worker Phyllis Marotta, who passed away last month.

A favorable ballot was returned on the following candidates: Jean LeServe, sponsor Mavis Dingsdale; Joan Jendras, Carol Vickers and Mary Cromey, sponsor Theresa Grefkowicz; Ramona Mitcheart, sponsor Millie Lombardo; Joan Fernigan, sponsor Louise Gutowski; Patricia Causey, sponsor Hope Cooms; Isabel Mathauser, sponsor Julie Brundage; JoAnn Raether, sponsor Sandi Grube; Carole Brandsness; and Mary Jane Greenwald, sponsored by Ruth Gussarson.

This month's birthday marchers were Edwyna Ragan, Joyce Andersen, Carole Duetsch and Alice Mellon.

Moose Recorder Judy Gipson told the chapter about visiting "our Sunshine Child" at Mooseheart for his birthday. Kevin just turned 8 years old and was really excited on receiving his presents from the chapter. The co-worker of the month is Asst. Guide Pearl Roach, who is said to be invaluable to this chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Szymanski

Ericson-Szymanski

Maria Alane Ericson of Antioch and Douglas Michael Szymanski of San Diego, Calif. exchanged their wedding vows on Aug. 18 at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Antioch. Father Lawrence Hanley officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Edwin and Sally Ericson of Antioch. She is a graduate of Antioch Community High School and attended Mundelein and Columbia College.

The groom is the son of Edwin and Muriel Szymanski of Yuma, Ariz. He attended San Diego City College.

Teri Saviano was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Irene Hastings, Denise Ericson, Linda Esser, Sue Kuhabka, Angela McGrath and Linda Ross.

William Kumpf served as the best man. Groomsmen were Mark Ericson, Don Mieves, Matthew Ericson, John Kuhabka and Norm Ross. Wesley Ross was the ring bearer.

A reception for the newly wed couple was held at the Landmark in Antioch. A honeymoon trip to Maui, Hawaii and Magic Mountain, Los Angeles, Calif. was taken.

The couple has made their home in San Diego, Calif.

Edwards speaks out against incinerators

Julia Edwards, a Democratic candidate for the Lake County Board in Dist. 4, has issued a statement opposing the construction or expansion of incinerators in Lake County. Edwards, a Round Lake Heights resident, feels that three specific steps should be taken to reduce solid waste in Lake County.

Recycling is the linchpin of all three steps. The first step, said Edwards, is to set "better goals for recycling solid waste, in addition to those for glass, metal cans, plastic and paper." She also feels that a recycling program for materials already in landfills should be developed.

Another step calls for research on recyclable materials, and replacements for, or bans on, those materials that cannot be recycled.

The third step, according to Edwards, is legislation mandating a return of returnable glass bottles, and the use of paper products containing 30 percent recyclable materials. She would also like to see all styrofoam containers and cellophane wrappers eliminated altogether.

Edwards' specific objection to incinerators is the air pollutants given off by incinerators, the possibly unacceptable stench and the "unacceptable, and unusable level of ash as an end product."

Edwards said she would "push for legislation to fund research, education and mandate manufacturers to limit their use of non-recyclable material." She feels that it is the continuing responsibility of the Lake County Board to inform the public about the necessity to reduce solid waste, and that the board "needs to push for legislation on funding for research and education."

Dist. 34: achievement high, spending low

Antioch School Dist. 34 Supt. Dan Skidmore reports that according to the Illinois Schools Report to the Public May 1990, on achievement measures Antioch compares favorably to "rich" districts. However, on expenditure comparison, the district spent less than the average.

"We had the highest reading score among 8th grade students in the six counties surrounding Cook County, but according to state figures (last tabulated in 1988) we spent an average of $3,100 per pupil as opposed to the $4,500 average statewide," Skidmore said. He added that Antioch's figure was slightly more than the poorest 100 districts.

"There is a high correlation between increased spending and increased achievement, but Antioch is the exception to that correlation," he said. He attributes that to Dist. 34's hardworking staff, a good curriculum and good community support.

"We were quite impressed with the achievement of our students," Skidmore added.

Farnsworth, "Athlete of the Week"

Teri Farnsworth has been selected as the Antioch High School "Athlete of the Week" for her performance in volleyball. Farnsworth led the team to two victories over Niles North and Crystal Lake Central with 15 kill shots hitting and blocking. Pictured with Farnsworth are Coach Gwen Varney and Carolyn Blanchette, who presented a $100 check on behalf of the State Bank of Antioch to the Parent/Teacher Scholarship fund in the name of Farnsworth. — photo by Katie Kuehner.

SHARE program is for those on welfare

The SHARE Program is not a welfare program, nor is it government subsidized. For $15 and three hours of unpaid community work each month, one can purchase meat, poultry, fruits, vegetables, pasta, cereal, etc.

To sign-up for this program, bring $15 to: the Antioch Chamber Office, the First National Bank of Antioch, the Antioch Village Hall, the State Bank of Antioch, the State Bank of Antioch in Lindenhurst and the Lake Villa Twp. office.

Pick-up will be on Oct. 20, at the Antioch VFW Hall on North Ave.

For more information call the Chamber at (708) 395-223-8161, or Exchange Club President Claudette Skvarce at (708) 395-6744.

Antioch H.S. band to perform at marching contest

The Antioch High School Marching Band will compete at the Wheaton North High School Marching Band Contest on Oct. 13 at 6 p.m. The band, under the direction of John Olisar, will perform at 8 p.m. The audience will also be treated to a performance by the Western Illinois University Marching Band. Admission is $3 for students and seniors, $5 for everyone else.

Special couple crowned ACHS king and queen

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Magical Moment

On Oct. 5, at the conclusion of the ACHS homecoming pep rally activities, the students picked the homecoming king and queen to be crowned at the homecoming dance on Saturday. There were six girls and six guys vying for this title. The candidates marched out two at a time, each carrying a bundle wrapped in red tissue. Hidden inside the tissue were red flowers or white flowers. The white flowers were secretly given to the boys and girl student chosen to be the king and queen. When the flowers were unwrapped, pretty Deanne Olenick held the white flower signifying queenship and handsome, tall Nor Weldon possess the second white flower for king.

It was truly a magical moment and one to remember forever. A factor adding to the specialness of the evening is, Norm and Deanna are girlfriend and boyfriend and will now be attending the dance as sweethearts and royalty. Congratulations to you both! I think your fellow students made an excellent choice.

Curtain Call

Friday, Oct. 12 and Saturday Oct. 13, will be the last two showings of "Kismet" at the PM&L Theatre at 877 Main St., Antioch. Remember seating is limited, so call (708)395-3055 to reserve your seats. The area theatre goers have been filling the new seats each night and have been thoroughly captivated by the fantastic melodies and the energetic talents of the cast of "Kismet". So visit one of the last shows of "Kismet" either alone, with your family, friends, or sweetheart and have a terrific time.

Football Results

On Sept. 23, the Antioch Viking Lightweights were victorious over St. Mary's of Buffalo Grove with a final score of 48-0 and on Sept. 30 they were defeated by Winnetka 6-0. This was race track in Kenosha with my daughter, Donna and her friend, Debbie Foerster. I had so much fun that I don't exactly know where to begin my story. I guess I'll start by telling you the parking lot was enormous and then some. The indoor grandstand was magnificent with betting booths and raffled. So stop in on Saturday to shop, eat or do both.

Touching Farewell

The members of the AARP All Stars Band lost a dear friend, Bill Tomasik. Bill was the bass player in the band and died after undergoing surgery. The band gathered in full uniform to wish Bill farewell and console his wife Frances who is also a member of the AARP Troop. Gone, but not forgotten, Bill will be missed by his many friends and his fellow All Star Members.

Fall Colors

Marcella Jesse and Clara Haling of Antioch recently enjoyed a terrific 10-day trip to the New England states viewing the beautiful fall countryside via Amtrak. The colors were overwhelmingly beautiful and the trip was very relaxing.

Good Looking Guys

If you were one of the many faces in the crowd at the ACHS male beauty contest on Oct. 3, I am sure you will agree it was a very exciting and special evening. There were 20 contestants vying for the title this year.

First the contestants paraded out in the swim suit competition and gave the audience a demonstration of muscle flexing. Next came the talent portion and the routine to "Short People" was fantastic, so fantastic that it took first place in the talent competition. Wow! The guys all looked great in the evening wear competition, after which the judges chose the five semi-finalists who then competed in the question and answer portion of the program. Brian Jandula won the first runner up spot and handsome Norm Weldon won the title of "Mr. ACHS" for the 1990-91 school year. I'd like to congratulate Norm on the win and all the contestants who entered and supplied the special entertainment for the exciting fun evening.

Faces In The Crowd

Some of the faces that I recognized in the crowd at the male beauty contest were: Shahnaz Hansen, Bill Nauman, Debi Mozal, Joanne Weber, Elaine Laskey, Donna Schmehl, Darlene, Missy and Deanna Olenick, Linda, Mary, Mike and Beth Boerman, Pat, Nicole and Jennifer Santiemmo, Phyllis, Erica and Bev Wagner, Agnes Galanopolus, Cindy Marquart, Cathy Chinn, Carrie Hiller, Kathy Harris, Diane Horton, Dorothy Hart, and Nick Pappadakis. Hope you all had as much fun as I did and with any luck I hope to see you all there again next year!

Name Please

Last week I received an anonymous phone call expressing disapproval over a recent "Hometown Goodies" column. Even though my caller refused to identify herself, I feel I listened to her and tried to politely address and respect her concerns. In my opinion, I feel I responded to this particular caller above and beyond the call of duty, as it was very difficult for me to keep a positive attitude when talking with an anonymous person. I hope I will always listen to and care about the concerns and tidbits of all my callers, even the ones who choose not to identify themselves. I'll even go as far as thanking "Miss Anonymous" for her call, as least this tells me people do read "Hometown Goodies." If you and I meet again, via "Ma Bell," hopefully you'll extend me the courtesy of letting me know who you are.

Friends Of The Parks

If you were at the ACHS Male Beauty Contest did you happen to notice the group of people proudly wearing their "Friends of the Park" T-shirts indicating their support of the Park District referendum? The issue goes to vote on Tuesday, Nov. 6; between now and then I hope you have an opportunity to sit in on a viewing of the Park Dist. information video. If you would like to know where you can borrow a copy of the video, look for the advertising posters displayed at various places in and about town, or contact the Antioch Parks Dept. at (708)395-2160.

Hometown Goodies

their first loss of the season, giving them four wins and one loss to date. The Viking Heavyweights remain undefeated after defeating Winnetka on Sept. 30 50-0.

Going To The Dogs

This past Thursday I had the time of my life as I visited the new Dairyland food vendors everywhere. I particularly enjoyed the parade of the racing dogs at the opening of each race.

Eight dogs wearing a numbered vest/apron marched out at the beginning of each race and we were given their names and weights. They were then marched down to the starting gate and the races began.

Twelve minutes was the time allotted between each of the 13 races to place your bet, view the dogs, and cross your fingers. When one of my picks actually crossed the finish line first, I knew I was hooked on dog racing forever. Guess I better go slow and be careful or I may find myself writing a future column about "Gambler's Anonymous!" All I can say is "try it, you'll like it" and "thanks, Donna and Debbie for dragging me along."

Bazaar/Luncheon

The United Methodist Women's Club is planning their annual Bazaar/Luncheon on Saturday, Oct. 13 at the United Methodist Church located at 848 Main St. in Antioch. The doors will open promptly at 9 a.m. and you have until 3 p.m. to shop the bazaar.

A delicious luncheon of ragout salad, dessert, and beverage will be available at $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 10. A hot dog lunch will also be available for the youngsters. Lunch time will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The sale items will consist of beautiful handmade Christmas gifts, t-shirts, towels, bake sale, and a white elephant sale. A special children's booth featuring various toys and games will also be set up. A hand-sewn quilt crafted and donated by the Naomi Circle will be the state and to learn why things were working "right" at Emmons School.

After speaking to the children and answering their questions about the federal government, Martin said the kids appeared to come from homes where education is stressed. She said she believed this factor, in conjunction with the quality of teachers Emmons School has, seems to be the reasons why the children's achievement scores were so high.

Dist. 33 Supt. Matt Tabar said he believed the children got a kick out of a congresswoman coming to their classroom and he was glad she came into the school to provide a visible symbol from Washington. "It's good to see her cheerleading for the schools."

Several questions the children asked were about federal government spending more money on education. Martin replied that sometimes more money isn't the answer -- it's how the money is spent.

The kids also said what they would look for in a president. Among the answers was "someone whose attitude isn't out of wack."

Martin later said she would like to see more flexibility in administering and teaching for individual districts -- that government should allow more individual district control.

She also said the Congress tends to spend money on the same programs that do not work instead of getting rid of these programs.

When asked what she would like to reform specifically, she said she would like to see:

- the federal government watch student loans for proprietary schools much more closely, considering the 70 percent default rate among their students.
- more professional and business people voluntarily coming into the classroom to share their work experiences.

-- educational administrative costs lowered.

Tabar said the governmental watch on proprietary schools was good because, if checked, more money could be channeled to other educational needs.

"As far as outside people coming into the schools to teach, we must be really careful because lay people don't have the teaching/learning background that professional educators have," Tabar said. He said the idea is sound, but that it should not be considered as a response to the issue of saving money for the district.

Tabar said high administrative costs in some districts is a state problem concerning inequity in funding between districts and that inroads are being made to equalize the finances of the districts.

The superintendent said he believed the primary role of the federal government, and therefore Martin (as Congresswoman or as U.S. Senator for which she is campaigning) is to provide a national direction for education. "Again, it's the vision kind of thing."

He said the government, federal or state, "should allow the individual districts to do what works."

He said he is also frustrated at the amount of paperwork the federal government requires of him. "I have to spend so much time (on demographics, e.g., which minorities are enrolled), even though we may not have the need for particular federal programs (e.g. specialized teaching for Swahili students)." He said he is frustrated the districts can't go to the government when they need programs, instead of taking up too much time filling out forms to determine any needs.

"We should be able to just go ask for it, instead of wasting all of this time."

Village reforms growth committee

by KATIE KUEHNER
Lakeland Newspapers

The members of the newly reactivated Lindenhurst Economic Development Commission were officially appointed at the Lindenhurst Village Board meeting this week.

Reformed to foster commercial development in the village, Mayor Bob Ratch said the commission's principle objective is to promote development to increase diversification of the village's tax base.

"We'd like to increase the sales tax revenue so we won't have to rely so heavily on real estate taxes," Ratch said.

"We have very few businesses here -- absolutely no industry to date and for a village of 8,000, very limited shopping facilities."

He said the commission will advocate that Lindenhurst is a good place to do business and is willing to listen to proposals from anyone in the industrial or shopping sector.

"We'd love to see car or boat dealers here because these are big ticket items that will help the sales tax revenue," he said.

According to Ratch, the commission that had been active between 1983 and 1988 had developed a brochure that the present commission can still use. "The statistics will have to be changed, but it's a fine brochure."

He said all but one of the the members of the new commission are Lindenhurst residents and this will help to keep the group vital. Most of the members of the previous commission were not residents, and Ratch said he believed this was the reason the commission became inactive.

The new members are Corwin Gross, president of the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce and owner of Dee's House of Pets; Dale O'Donnell, assistant branch manager of Antioch State Bank in Lindenhurst; Billy Skelton, general manager of the electronics division of Cherry Electrical Products of Waukegan; Ronald Williams, practicing dentist in Lindenhurst; and James McNichols, vice president and chief financial officer of Victory Health Services (owners of Victory Lakes Care Centers) in Waukegan.

"These people have diversified talents, which is a big plus," Ratch said.

He added the commission will hold its first meeting within the month to set goals and that he will be attending to outline possible directions. Village Trustee Wilma Wetzel will serve as the liaison between the commission and the village board.

Winter drawdown

LAKE COUNTY — Chairman John Soffietti of the Chain O'Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency has been informed by Dir. Donald R. Vonahme of the Ill. Dept. of Transportation, Division of Water Resources, that the division will implement the winter drawdown on Oct. 15. The target date to arrive at the winter pool is Nov. 15. Comments from the public are welcome when sent to IDOT, Division of Water Resources, 2300 S. Dirksen Pkwy., Springfield, Ill. 62764.

Smoking ban

FOX LAKE—Smokers and non-smokers alike on the village council are supporting a plan to limit smoking in the village hall. A small conference room will be turned into employees' lounge where smoking will be permitted. Mayor Frank Meier, a non-smoker, pointed out that there is risk that taxpayers will think a second furnace has been installed when smoke starts pouring out of the lounge. "Or maybe someone will call the fire department," it was suggested.

Probe murder

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago police are continuing to investigate a murder outside a tavern Oct. 6. Dianne Herr, age 43, was pronounced dead at Saint Therese Medical Center following the 1:30 a.m. incident.

Waukegan Bears?

WAUKEGAN—Over the next three weeks, motorists should not be alarmed as they watch a bubble being constructed in Waukegan. The Chicago Bears and the city of Waukegan have announced a deal which will bring the NFL team to Waukegan. The team could begin practice in its new indoor facility as early as Nov. 1.

Motorola will start

LIBERTYVILLE—Ground will be broken next week by Motorola Inc. for a new $7-million facility at Rte. 45 and Winchester Rd. employing 4,000 people when it opens in early 1992. The plant will make cellular telephones to be sold in Japan.

Food store wanted

MUNDELEIN—More than 1,400 signatures have been collected on petitions by Trustee Ralph Rohling asking that a food store be located in the downtown area. The goal is 2,000 signers. Eagle Foods, whose lease expires Dec. 31, must find a new location. Village officials would like it to be at the former Jewel-Osco complex now being converted to a mini-mall by former Mayor Colin McRae. The village is looking for a way to break a 10-year covenant prohibiting a grocery or liquor store at the location.

Gilmer setback

WAUKEGAN—A Lake County Circuit Court judge rejected a request for the town of Gilmer's incorporation referendum.

Alderman dies

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago city officials are mourning the death of Ald. Henry Lubeck. Lubeck served the first ward for two terms on the city council. He died Oct. 5 at the North Chicago Veterans Admin. Medical Center following a long illness.

Hudson reappears

ROUND LAKE BEACH—A Round Lake Beach mother and four children, missing for 22 days, reappeared in a lawyer's office in Waukegan last week. On Tuesday, Oct. 2, Kelly Hudson and her four children, William, 10; Dana, 6; Kyle, 4; and Joshua, 6 mos.; appeared in the law offices of Kevin Kane in Waukegan, and from there notified the Round Lake Beach Police of their reappearance. On Wednesday, Oct. 3 Kelly Hudson appeared in Lake County Circuit Court and filed for divorce from William Hudson. She also took out an order of protection against him, claiming that she was subjected to 12 years of ongoing and escalating abuse and domestic violence.

Stock dies

GRAYSLAKE—Walter J. Stock, 79, a Grayslake Park Dist. Commissioner, died in his home on Friday, Oct. 5. The Grayslake Park Dist. was closed on Tuesday, Oct. 9, in his memory. Stock was born in Chicago on April 13, 1911 and had lived in Grayslake for over 38 years. Retired, he had worked at Inland Press in Chicago, and the Barrington Press. Stock was a member of St. Gilbert's Parish in Grayslake and belonged to the St. Gilbert's Friendship Club, the Warren Twp. Friendship Club, the Grayslake Rams Boosters Club and the National Rifle Assoc.

Strike continues

WAUCONDA—Wauconda Unit School Dist. 118 board president Daniel Quick announced the administration is preparing to hire substitutes and to reopen schools "as soon as possible," as the teacher strike continues into the second week. Both sides have been unable to agree on salaries. The latest proposals on the table includes the school board's offer for an 18 percent increase over two years. The teachers want 21.9 percent. Previously, teachers rejected a three-year proposal for 23 percent and they were asking 36 percent.

Introducing the high-yielding CD that gives you access to your money.

First of America's new Access CD™ is the investment opportunity you've been waiting for. Because you don't have to wait until the end of its two-year maturity to gain access to your funds.

One withdrawal is allowed just 30 days after your initial deposit with additional withdrawals allowed once every subsequent 30 days. So if you need to get to your money without penalty, you can.

The base rate is 6.25 percent annually with a 2 percent bonus per year on funds left on deposit until maturity for an effective yield of 8.11 percent.

A $1,000 minimum deposit is all that's required. And, of course, your bank deposits are FDIC insured up to $100,000.

ACCESS CD

Simon 'chief' concern

Just in time for the Nov. 6 election, the long-simmering question whether Chief Illiniwek, the symbol of the University of Illinois, offends Indian sensibilities and should be replaced is back on the front burner. U of I trustees have agreed to hear the testimony of two Native American groups and make a decision at their October meeting.

Respect of Indian tradition and history always should be considered, just like the traditions and heritage of other ethnic groups should be considered. We can't help but feel that Indian activists are going too far when they say the majestic figure of the chief is demeaning and should be abolished. We hope the trustees give the Indian representatives a courteous hearing and then vote to support the position of Chancellor Morton Weir who said the symbolic figure is not disrespectful and reaffirm the resolution adopted by the Illinois General Assembly that Chief Illiniwek remain the university symbol.

With that bit of business taken care of, public attention should be turned to U.S. Sen. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) who took a cock-eyed position that the university of Illinois should eliminate the symbolic figure. Simon has a habit of getting involved in issues that aren't in the best interest of Illinois. Voters should think about that.

Getting the message

What appears to be a campaign against illegal minor drinking in Mundelein isn't a campaign at all. Just "our people doing their job," according to Police Chief Wallace Frazier. Whatever, liquor dealers ought to be getting the message by now.

At the same time police officers were making arrests for sale of liquor to minors, Mundelein police made 10 arrests for driving under the influence. Again, Chief Frazier observed that Mundelein officers are doing what they are supposed to—apprehend law offenders.

We're wondering if drivers are getting the message?

The answer to the question about getting the message obviously is "no." That's why law enforcement is necessary. Mayor Jim Kay of Lake Zurich was astonished not long ago to learn that his message that liquor ordinances would be enforced strictly under his administration was "not getting out." He came down hard on a liquor violator and in the process incurred the wrath of some members of the business community.

When it comes to liquor, apparently the message never gets out sufficiently to eliminate violations. So the mayor, as head of the local liquor commission, and police will have to remain vigilant—and keep putting out the message.

Letters To The Editor

Reinstein a deficit

Editor:

Since 1968, I have supported every school referendum and teachers' raise in Wauconda School Dist. 118. And even now, I support a reasonable raise for teachers. A strong school system is good for the community, for its spirit, for its property values, for its economy. But recently, I became enraged at the teachers' union.

I read that the negotiator for the teachers' union, Mark Reinstein, said that Dist. 118 can afford the raise he is asking for because, "They aren't even on the state board's watch list (for schools with severe deficits)."

Speaking for the great majority of Wauconda-Island Lake residents, I say that we do not want to be on the watch list of districts in financial trouble! Squeezing every last penny out of our community and putting us in debt is not what we consider a strong school district.

The teachers should be aware that having a negotiator with that attitude will be a deficit to them and the schools in the long run.

District in crisis

Editor:

It seems the opinion of the voters no longer means anything in Round Lake. Dave DeBolt was voted out of office in November's election only to find himself appointed to the Round Lake School Board once again. Mr. DeBolt claims he applied because he is still interested in the district, however, since losing the election he has not been at one board meeting, regular or special. He was chosen because of his expertise on a school board; the same expertise that helped negotiate a teachers contract knowing there would not be enough money to pay them.

It's important for the taxpayer's to know our district was already in crisis before the November 1989 election. The referendum on the November ballot, while it is sorely needed, is not for new classrooms or new schools, it's to pay off a loan taken to assure the teachers' salaries for this year. If the referendum passes we will be no better off financially than we are right now.

Stormwater plan being misinterpreted

by PAUL J. WESCOTT

A letter to the editor left the impression that the proposed stormwater management ordinance is primarily meant to regulate environmental matters in Lake County.

While that may be the intent of some county officials and staff and while that may serve a noble purpose, the enabling legislation that is the basis for the Lake County Stormwater Management Plan makes no mention of wetlands, water quality, pollution control, etc.

It does, however, mention "levels or flows of stormwaters," "stormwater discharges," "the effects of increased runoff," "the effects of urbanization on stormwater drainage," etc., all being basically flood control terminology.

Furthermore, the purpose of the enabling legislation is "to allow management and mitigation of the effects of urbanization on stormwater drainage," yet regulations are being drafted that affect not just urbanizing areas, but non-urbanizing areas as well.

The seemingly poor match between Springfield's intent and the county's regulatory effort may be a source of endless legal wrangling. Since as Raymond L. LaCroix says, "The plan has already cost county taxpayers a few million dollars and will cost multi-millions in much needed studies..." County taxpayers would do well to monitor what's going on to ensure that their representatives don't wander too far from the intent of Springfield. Spending tax money on legal fees is not very productive.

Commentary

If the county wants an "environmental plan," it should petition Springfield for legislation specifically addressing the environmental concerns of its citizens. Both environmental matters and flood-control concerns would be better served.

Viewpoint

12-month year could solve mess over teacher pay

by BILL SCHROEDER

Consider yourself fortunate if you live in a community where new teacher contracts are not being negotiated this fall. With a possible economic recession looming, teacher union strategy seems to rest on a "get everything we can now" premise. In this kind of an atmosphere, ugly things can happen.

In Wauconda, where classes have been suspended while teachers walk the picket lines, the Wauconda Education Assn. is out to discredit school board management of income by showing how the district has diverted money from the education fund(salaries) for building maintenance and upkeep. This is perfectly legal, only the union sees this as unfairly depressing salaries for the people who man the classroom battlements.

Negotiations for the WEA are being master-minded by Mark Reinstein, regional director of the Illinois Education Assn., the largest teachers' union in the state. Reinstein also is calling the shots for negotiations at Fox Lake and Gavin elementary districts where both sides are in mediation and relations are strained.

Reinstein is denying that he was itching for a strike in Wauconda. If he wasn't, then the union chief has a short fuse. Reinstein reportedly walked out of Fox Lake negotiations when board members attempted to reason with him on the issue of affordability of union demands for a 46.5 percent increase over three years.

Where school boards are in negotiation, there is surprising support on the part of the public, especially parents, for the union position that teacher pay has to be increased. School board members, sweating to juggle tax income and declining state aid against union demands, often feel all alone in the face of hard-nosed union negotiators and parents who want to get the kids back in school. One Fox Lake school board member admitted to this column, "I'm bushed. I never thought I'd get to this point, but I'm wearing down." IEA operatives can really go to town in this climate.

Part of the eternal struggle between school boards and the union is that teachers equate their pay on an annual basis while school officials manage "a business" that operates only part of the year. Wouldn't a way out of this dilemma be to compute teacher pay on an annual basis and then have teachers work 12 months a year like everyone else?

Our pay system for public education never will seem "fair" to either side until we start speaking the same language—a decent year's pay for a year's work.

GET WELL SOON---We hope Jessie O'Grady of Gurnee, preparing for her 99th birthday, is feeling better after a stay in Lake Forest Hospital, including a few days in intensive care. Mrs. O'Grady has a permanent appointment as grand marshal of the annual St. Patrick's Day parade in Waukegan. Family and friends noted that she "might have over did herself" dancing at two recent weddings. A lively Irish jig, no doubt.

NOMINATED---Mike Wagner, a Lake County football product who went on to stardom and all-pro honors with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is a nominee for safety on the Silver Anniversary All-Time Super Bowl Team. Out of nearly 2,000 men who have played or coached in the first 24 Super Bowls, only 105 were nominated. Some company.

If Mike wins one of two safety spots in fan balloting, he'll take part in Super Bowl XXV festivities in Tampa, Fla., Jan. 23-28.

I'm starting a local campaign to get out the vote for Mike, who now is an investment banker residing in Pittsburgh. Formerly a Lake Villa resident, he got his first taste of football at Carmel High School. He attracted pro scouts at Western Illinois University. The rest is Steeler history, including four Super Bowl rings. His parents now are residents of the Fox Lake area in unincorporated Grant Township. Wagner's career ran from 1971 to 1980.

You can cast a vote for Mike by getting a ballot at the local Buick dealership or obtaining the 12-page ballot guide in the Oct. 8 issue of Sports Illustrated.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

MALEFASANCE, ETC.—As might be expected, the Democratic candidate for Lake County treasurer doesn't think his Republican opponent is doing a very good job. Sandar Stagman said he found this out by making a few simple requests of Jack "Red" Anderson's office.

"I was informed by letter the office has no listing of interest earned by bank (only for the year) and cannot provide daily balances," said Stagman, an accountant. He has a 15-year veteran of the Cook County treasurer's office, Allan Crown, as his campaign chairman.

"I accuse you of malefascence, deceptive practices and the deliberate concealing of information lawfully disclosable to the public," Stagman wrote in a letter to Anderson hand delivered last Friday.

"I hereby challenge you to explain and defend these practices in open debate on radio, television and in public forums. Failure to acknowledge, accept and answer this challenge is recognition of guilt, of cover up and waste of public funds which is tantamount to criminal conduct as well as breach of public trust.

"Not knowing what interest is earned in bank accounts can only lead to the conclusion that no or little interest is being earned on bank deposits," Stagman's letter continued. "Such incompetent management of public funds must be costing Lake County taxpayers million of dollars in lost revenue.

By not knowing the balances in bank accounts on a daily basis is in violation of governmental accounting principles and opens the doors to fraud, corruption and manipulation of public funds.

"The existing practices of this office for decades has never been under scrutiny. It is now. Fraud under any name is still fraud. Deceptive practices is still deception. An malefascence of public officials is the reason Lake County taxpayers pay more property taxes than anyone else in the state of Illinois," Stagman says.

NEW DEMOCRAT?—Environmentalist Suzi Schmidt, the Dist. 4 County Board member from Lake Villa, will run as a Democrat two years from now.

That's the prediction of Libertyville political guru Jack Martin, owner of the Libertyville Saddle Shop. How and why? Martin doesn't think Schmidt fits the image of the Republican party. She also is an open-spacer, which puts her on the opposite side of the corral from Martin.

No matter that he contributed to her successful County Board campaign three years ago. "She's been a disgrace to me and the County Board since that time," says the man who admits he bet on the wrong filly.

Schmidt says she doesn't know what she did to alienate Martin, but says the challenge is fine with her. "When I ran three years ago for this office I didn't have any more support from the Republicans than the Democrats," she said. "I expect the same will be true when I run again in two years. Incidentally, Martin doesn't live in my district, so he can't vote for or against me."

Denial with reason

Editor:

As chairwoman of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. (LCSWCD) I feel compelled to comment on a recent letter to the editor from Robert E. Reinhold of Ingleside. It appears the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals denied Mr. Reinhold's petition for a conditional use permit for deep filling of the floodplain. In the letter Mr. Reinhold indicated his belief that all the requirements and concerns of reviewing agencies had been met. He also indicated that two agencies, one being the LCSWCD, recommended denial without reason.

The document to which Mr. Reinhold refers is called a Natural Resource Opinion (NRO). This report is prepared by the LCSWCD for annexations, subdivisions and zoning variances, as required by state statute. NRO's contain site specific information based on a field visit and available natural resource information (e. g. soil, wetland, floodplain maps; tree preservation). Conclusions contained in the report address the District's professional assessment of potential impacts from the proposed development on the specific parcel, as well as the adjacent properties. Our recommendations to the appropriate governing body are based on the district's natural resource policies. Recommendations for denial occur when the district believes potential problems or unwarranted degradation of natural resources will occur. Reasons for denial are clearly stated in the text of the Natural Resource Opinion. The report, when properly used by decisions makers, provides the basis for wise land use planning and development, while protecting the natural resources found on a parcel.

The district does recognize that in many instances engineering is a common technique used to overcome inherent natural resource limitations. Unfortunately, in our opinion, not all engineering recognizes ecological impacts. The NRO addressing Mr. Reinhold's property does in fact contain a list of natural resource concerns that were apparent at the time of his petition. The District's recommendation for denial was based on these concerns.

Sounds of silence

Editor:

When is the last time you gazed at a sunset and heard the magnificence of its spectrum? Or held a fresh bouquet of spring flowers, and listened to their aroma? We often take for granted the knowledge held within silence, and we abuse the power of tranquility.

As one woman is trapped in a world without sound, a community is engulfed by a County Board without a voice.

Just recently the Lake County Forest Preserve nonchalantly designated another 40 acre plot of land for condemnation—and as the teary-eyed widow stood before them, they defeated her with their stone-cold hearts.

How long must we endure this travesty, and when will justice prevail? We are not a society that can be governed by untruths and misrepresentation. We are a family of people who believe in justice and liberty for all, and we shall be heard on Nov. 6, as we cast our votes for democracy.

For united we stand, but divided, they'll fall, and the sounds of defeat will echo throughout the county.

So "hear's" to you Mr. Graham, Mr. Balen, Mr. Geary and all your young proteges; deaf people still cry, but it was your inability that made it impossible for you to hear the tears.

Judge has right idea

Editor:

In recent years the medical and insurance industries have sought to "reform" the legal system because they say the system is causing their insurance premiums to go to unacceptably high levels, and reducing their profits. Justice Horace Calvo of the Illinois Supreme Court recently wrote that:

"It now appears that the trend of the 1970s may well have been a wave of hysteria unwarranted by what an increasing number of courts and commentators feel was an 'illusory' or 'perceived' crisis, the result of intense lobbying pressure by insurance and medical groups...Even among those who believe there was a crisis, there are those who believe that the origin of the crisis is not solely attributable to rising payments on medical malpractice claims and, in any event, the legislation enacted in response to the crisis was, for the most part, 'ill conceived, or at least did not perform as intended.'"

Justice Calvo concluded that:

"It makes no sense to punish innocent victims of medical malpractice ad infinitum in an effort to maintain consistency.

When a thing is wrong, it is wrong. The longer we wait to right this wrong, the longer the injustice will continue and the more difficult it will be to rectify the error..."

As a lawyer who represents the victims of negligence, in personal injury and wrongful death cases, I agree with the opinion of Supreme Court Justice Calvo.

Chief is the 'spirit'

Editor:

The Associated Press reported that the Univ. of Illinois Board of Trustees voted to hear testimony from American Indian Groups protesting "Chief Illiniwek." They claim he is a racist symbol and an offensive stereotype. It is true that the board voted to hear the Indians and to consider the issue, and it was my motion that prompted the action. This issue has been festering for a year, and it is time we get it resolved.

The AP then went on to say that I support the Indian groups' "call for a change." This is untrue. I made it quite clear at the meeting that I support the Chief. He is a symbol of the spirit of a great university. His appearance is one of dignity. His war dance is done with grace and beauty.

The Chief is keeping the memory of a great Indian nation alive for thousands of Illinoisans who otherwise would know little or nothing of them.

I feel strongly that those who view the Chief as a "mascot" or a "caricature" just don't understand the Chief's true meaning to thousands of UI students and alumni—he is the "spirit" of the Illini and he should be retained.

Hawthorn Lakes, Condell Present free Health Fair

Senior aerobics, delicious healthy food demonstrations, and a senior endurance marathon are some of the informative and fun events planned for seniors and their families at The Hawthorn Lakes' Health and Fun Fair. In collaboration with Condell Medical Center, the fair will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, Oct. 24 at the retirement community, 10 E. Hawthorn Parkway, Vernon Hills.

The fair will be open to the public and features informative talks, demonstrations, consultations and health screenings by Condell Medical Center staff including dental, vision, hearing, blood pressure, cholesterol and blood sugar screenings. The fair and most health screenings are free but there will be a minimal charge for cholesterol tests.

The health fair will feature a special panel discussion conducted by local medical and housing professionals and will focus on topics of concern to today's older adults and their families. As well as investigating seniors' housing options and financial obligations, the panel will also discuss how today's "sandwich generation" can find care for their aging loved ones.

Cooking demonstrations will provide seniors and their families with healthy sauce and dessert recipes and samples. Seniors are encouraged to participate in the aerobics and sinterize demonstrations conducted by fitness experts.

For more information on the health fair call (708)367-2516.

Free party for seniors Oct. 27

The Eye Care Center of Lake County Senior Advisory Board and Saint Therese Medical Center continue to report that the "Eye Scream" Social Halloween party plans are going great. The party is free to senior citizens and will take place from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27 at the Grant High School cafeteria in Fox Lake.

"We are very excited about the response from local seniors," states Anna James, member of the senior advisory board for the Eye Care Center. The Round Lake Kitchen Band will be providing entertainment, and Dr. Thomas Bobka and Advisory Board President Ruth Adams will handle the costume contest. Jerry Michalek and his combo will be providing dance and sing-a-long music.

"Our staff and senior advisory board are getting their costumes ready and preparing for lots of food, dancing and fun", said a smiling Dr. Barry Sciller.

Free reservations are available by calling The Eye Care Center of Lake County at (708)587-9800.

Body spa, gives the right touch

by MARY KRUEGER

At Vickie's Personal Touch in Wauconda, Vickie Laureys offers her clients a little more than the usual massage and spa.

Laureys converted an old upstairs apartment above her salon into a unique body spa that is designed to relieve stress and restore balance to the whole person.

"I think that's the attitude for the 90s," said Laureys. "We need to take the time to just slowing down. You as an individual should think about yourself because nobody else is going to do it for you."

The spa has six rooms each providing a separate service. A long, white table takes up most of the first room where a professionally trained massage therapist manipulates the soft tissue of the body to improve circulation and body tone.

A skin care consultant administers deep pore facial cleansing in the second room. Other services include organic mineral body wraps which help tone the skin and actually help lose inches, makeup application and hair, aromatherapy which is basically a rubdown using essential oils and foot reflexology.

"Foot reflexology has been around for awhile," said Laureys. "We work on parts of the feet that help parts of the body. Nothing cures, but you feel a difference. One client said that her feet felt more padded, like walking on a cloud."

Hair styling and free-hand nail art are still available in the downstairs salon. All services are performed by Laureys and her staff.

Work in the body spa is not yet complete. Laureys has future plans to offer nutrition seminars working one on one with clients. This personal touch will also be extended to radiation and chemotherapy patients whom Laureys hopes will be able to come into the spa to be fitted with a "look good—feel better"

Vickie's complete remodeling

Wauconda's Personal Touch, a unique body spa, owned by Vickie Laureys, offers clients stress relief and the restoring of whole person balance as well as special skin care, organic body wrap to help lose inches and foot reflexology which helps other parts of the body feel better.

program partially developed by the American Cancer Society.

"My real challenge will be to work with burn victims. I plan on using a special camouflage makeup that will make a world of difference." The makeup may also be used to disguise facial birthmarks or smooth over recent plastic surgery," said Laureys. "This will help the victims to look and thus, feel better. I believe there is a real need for it."

Laureys worked on her Cosmetology Degree through high school and began working in the shop that she now owns immediately after graduation. Although she had an early start in her career, her education has never stopped. Laureys continues taking college courses and is a firm believer in the importance of a continued education. Sometimes when students graduate they feel they are finished with school. However, Laureys expects dedication from her staff and encourages them by hosting salon training sessions and inspiring outside classes and seminars. Laureys believes, "If you don't continue to learn, you become stagnant." (Some girls get their license and don't seem to know what to do with it).

In a sense, hair care is the original business but we're seeing a lot of new faces plus the familiar ones going upstairs to the spa. Although people are sometimes scared, they realize the need for improvement.

Laureys' clients apparently like what she is doing. The salon handles 7 to 100 people a day and the spa is attracting both old and new clientele. More and more people are accepting the challenge to help themselves.

In the category of illuminated exterior signs, the company received a second place award, for its entry of the Zebra Technologies Corp., identification sign, located in Vernon Hills. North Shore again received top honors, garnering a first-place award in the category of commercial vehicle lettering for its graphics and lettering entry for Frame-up Wheel Works, on a restored 1946 Chevy panel truck.

Portrait: A soldier's life in the desert

American soldiers in Saudi Arabia are working day and night under searing heat as the U.S. buildup of troops continues. A look at a typical day, what soldiers eat and wear and what supplies beyond weaponry have been sent to sustain Operation Desert Shield:

Round-the-clock schedule

With afternoon temperatures regularly topping 120°, troops are sleeping during the day, training at night (about 90°). A typical day:

Meals: Breakfast at 5 a.m.; lunch at noon; dinner at 6 p.m.

Sleep: Between breakfast and lunch

Water: Soldier carries about three quarts water in three canteens; water available at base camp, resupply points; soldiers required to drink about once a hour, whether thirsty or not; that's about 4-6 gallons a day

Personal hygiene: Showers few and far between; hot towels each morning, tooth-brushing daily, sponge bath when possible

Patrolling: 10-12 soldiers walk together in the desert, get familiar with terrain, heat, sand, scorpions, snakes; learn to use maps, compasses at night; marching drills

Training: Practice getting into protective clothing and gear within 7-10 seconds; drink water through rubber tubes while wearing chemical masks; training can go on all night

What soldier wears and carries

A typical soldier is wearing and carrying about 85 pounds of clothing and gear. Cost per soldier: $1,452.

No thought for financial future in stress filled workplace

by CHARLES WHITE

A growing concern among corporate executives and other employees today is dealing with stress. The 40-hour work week is a fantasy in the majority of companies' management teams. Job security for this group continues to be on the wane since merger-mania is now giving way to recession-phobia.

The home front has certainly not offered much solace either, since many households now resemble battle zones rather than quiet places of refuge and harmony.

Corporations are spending millions each year in trying to assist executives in dealing with this problem. Unfortunately, the stress management seminars, exercise facilities, etc. only treat the symptoms. Companies (and executives and other employees) would be much better of treating the causes of stress and thereby helping to diminish or eliminate

The solution to properly harnessing both your time and finances begins with proper planning. The old truism "failure to plan is planning for failure" hits its mark, since the vast majority of Americans never take ning is based upon the premise of limited resources being used to accomplish a variety of tasks. First, decide upon your objectives. Not just a particular "to do" list for the day, but set life goals over the short, medium and long range.

Proper goal setting is a proven management technique. Second, prioritize these goals and put them into proper perspective. This will make your day to day decision making much simpler, faster and less stressful.

Third, break down each goal into manageable pieces. This is done so that you quickly see goals beginning to be met and develop a pattern of success with positive reinforcement. Fourth, set realistic timetables and reward yourself for staying on schedule.

Do not be timid in adjusting your timetables which prove to be unrealistic, but keep them challenging so you have to push yourself and stay focused. This will improve your motivation, your drive and your self-confidence.

Progressive companies are already zeroing in on these areas by offering time management seminars and financial planning as perks. These help the busy executive be more productive, better organized, more self-assured and better satisfied.

It is no wonder the financial planning perk (in particular) is the second or third most demanded benefit today among major companies. Small to medium sized companies should also wake up to these neglected areas and develop plans to address these concerns with their own executives.

Editor's note: Charles D. White is president of Financial Advisory Corp., an Arlington Heights and Lake Forest investment advisory firm. He also is a certified financial planner with an MBA in finance. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way To Wealth.

This Way to Wealth

it, rather than just cope with it.

Two of the most common causes of stress are mismanagement of time and finances. You will probably be quick to recognize that there is a dirth of education today on these two subjects, and it is no surprise to find these areas so abused.

time to plan for success. They are too wrapped up in their own crisis management program of just getting through the week. No thought can then be given to the future.

The basics of successful planning are simple. The hard part is taking time to think things through. Plan-

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1990.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 8 OF ARTICLE IX (Delinquent Tax Sales)

(Proposed changes in the existing constitutional provision are indicated by underscoring all new matter and by crossing with a line all matter which is to be omitted.)

ARTICLE IX REVENUE

SECTION 8. TAX SALES

(a) Real property shall not be sold for the nonpayment of taxes or special assessments without judicial proceedings.

(b) (4) The right of redemption from all sales of real estate for the nonpayment of taxes or special assessments, except as provided in subsections (c) and (d) ~~paragraph (2) of this subsection (b)~~, shall exist in favor of owners and persons interested in such real estate for not less than 2 ~~two~~ years following such sales.

(c) The right of redemption from the sale for nonpayment of taxes or special assessments of a parcel of real estate which: (1) is vacant non-farm real estate or (2) contains an improvement consisting of a structure or structures each of which contains 7 or more residential units or (3) is commercial or industrial property; shall exist in favor of owners and persons interested in such real estate for not less than one year following such sales.

(d) (4) The right of redemption from the sale for nonpayment of taxes or special assessments of a parcel real estate which: (1) (A) is vacant non-farm real estate or (2) (B) contains an improvement consisting of a structure or structures each of which contains 7 or more residential units or (3) (C) is commercial or industrial property; and upon which all or a part of the general taxes for each of 2-5 or more years are delinquent shall exist in favor of owners and persons interested in such real estate for not less than 6 months ~~90 days~~ following such sales.

(e) (4) Owners, occupants and parties interested shall be given reasonable notice of the sale and the date of expiration of the period of redemption as the General Assembly provides by law.

SCHEDULE

This Constitutional Amendment takes effect upon approval by the electors of this State.

FORM OF BALLOT

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the ballot in the following form:

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The proposed amendment deals with the problem of tax sale delinquency on commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm, and large multi-unit residential properties. The amendment has no effect on single family homes, farmland, or apartment buildings of 6 units or less.

The amendment would permit the legislature to reduce the redemption period following a tax sale of commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm or multi-unit residential property. The redemption period is the period of time the delinquent owner has following a tax sale to pay the delinquent taxes and prevent the transfer of title to a new owner.

Under the amendment the legislature could reduce the redemption period on the specified classes of property from 2 years to 6 months if the property is 2 or more years delinquent. Currently, the Illinois Constitution permits a shorter redemption period only if the property is 5 or more years delinquent. The amendment would also allow a one year redemption period, rather than the current 2 years, if these properties are tax delinquent for at least one year.

Illinois law already provides for multiple notices to delinquent owners and court procedures before a tax deed can be obtained. This amendment would not change these protective notices or court procedures.

Punch the number opposite "YES" or "NO" to indicate your choice.

For the proposed amendment to Section 8 of Article IX of the Constitution to authorize the General Assembly to reduce the redemption period following tax sales on delinquent commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm and large multifamily residential properties only.	YES
	NO

Phase II opens at Spring Dale Trails

Construction has begun on phase II at Spring Dale Trails in Spring Grove, announced Richard J. Brown, president of Cambridge Homes, developer of the community.

This phase of development will consist of 20 single family homes. All homes will be built on prime one-acre lots. The first phase of 100 homes is nearing completion. There will be a total of 140 homes when the community is completed.

Phase II homes are currently priced from $149,990 to $213,990, and thus far seven of the 20 homes have been sold.

"Home buyers are finding Spring Dale Trails an ideal place to live not only for the excellent home values they receive, but also for the numerous recreational amenities in the area," said Brown.

Spring Dale Trails is close to several lakes including the Chain of Lakes, so boating and fishing are readily available, according to Brown. In addition, Wilmet Mountain Sports Area offers skiing, several golf courses and miles of equestrian trails.

"Spring Dale Trails offers relaxed country living on generous acre homesites along with Cambridge-quality homes," said Brown. "These homes offer tremendous value in an increasingly popular area."

To visit Spring Dale Trails, travel Int. Hwy. 94 to Rte. 173 west past Richardson Rd, south a quarter mile to English Prairie Rd west to the community entrance.

Keippel has received the NSAA once since beginning his career with the insurance and investment group.

Candidate finds new role for Democrats

If Lake County's burning environmental and open space problems ever are reorganized along partisan party lines, a 30-year-old single parent of a seven-year-old son expects to be on the cutting edge.

Elizabeth "Beth" Geuzendam, a conservation and preservation activist, is making her first bid for public office as a Democrat after years of working with Republicans who want to preserve Lake County's semi-rural character.

Up to now, Geuzendam points out, preserving open space and protecting an environment ravaged by rampant growth and development, has been non-partisan. But that could be changing, in the opinion of Geuzendam, who is associated in a family horse boarding business located on a seven acre site near Wauconda.

Geuzendam says Lake County GOP leadership has embraced growth and development "at any cost." In the wake of rapid urbanization being orchestrated with Republican help are disgruntled party members who want to slow growth, preserve and protect what's left of the county's open space, Geuzendam pointed out.

"I'm waiting for the Republicans to burn more bridges. It's time for Democrats to step in and provide the leadership to save our beautiful county."

Even though Geuzendam has supported Republicans in the past who share her views on conservation and preservation, she exclaims with a grin, "I feel very comfortable running as a Democrat."

Unless the GOP leadership of Lake

County modifies its stand on growth and development, deadly serious, Geuzendam asserted, "The Republicans are going to have a rough time getting out of the 1992 primary."

Geuzendam is seeking election as a County Board representative from Dist. 6, including Fremont, Wauconda, Ela, Cuba and part of Vernon Township. Republicans opposing her are Ela Twp. Supervisor Robert Grever and Colin McRae, former mayor of Mundelein. Both are considered Republican regulars and they have been identified with pro-development interests.

Beth Geuzendam

"This is a great time to be running. In the last three Dist. 6 County Board elections, five out of the six Republican candidates have favored slowing growth and protecting the environment. There was no reason for voters to switch parties. Now there is," asserted Geuzendam, who has a background in banking and sales.

The tall, bespectacled woman insisted that she is not a single issue candidate.

"I am a moderate, negotiative person," she pointed out, explaining that women by nature are more conciliatory and open to the viewpoints of others.

"I believe in individual land rights," she added, referring to the long standing criticism of land acquisition policies of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. where condemnation actions has been the subject of wide debate.

Geuzendam wants to see better planning and more cooperation between the county and municipalities.

One of the ironies of planning, she stated, is that land identified for open space frequently becomes the target of builders for residential development. She feels that protecting greenways and creating housing areas with higher density is the way to go.

Getting down to practical politics, Geuzendam said "You'd be surprised at the support I'm going to get from many Republican precinct committee persons. There is consensus on the environment. They'll vote for me."

"Really, I'm in a win, win situation," she added with a hearty laugh. "The Republican leadership is sowing the seeds of its own demise. They're not interested in the desirable life-style we have."

Geuzendam has stacks of data to support her land preservation stand. She has battled Wauconda growth policies and fought the sprawl into Lake County being fostered by tiny Lakemoor in McHenry County.

Lake County can't stand the type of urbanization typical of Cook and DuPage because of its unique blend of lakes and water, Geuzendam insists. "We've got 10.2 percent of the Illinois wetlands right here in Lake County."

Insightfully, Geuzendam mentioned that State Rep. Robert Churchill who is county GOP chairman and a staunch supporter of urban growth, has more wetlands in his northern Lake County district than any other state representative. "Where's he coming from?" she asked quizzically.

The former resident of Mundelein said she aims to bring all sides together—horse people, environmentalists, taxpayers, and, yes, even developers.

Geuzendam insisted that money isn't going to win the County Board election in Dist. 6. "I've raised $2,000 and I've spent most of it already," she laughed. Her strategy will be to concentrate on personal contacts and build a network of voters who are tired of seeing the countryside plowed up for homes, shopping centers and roads.

Absentee Ballots for Military available

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess wants to remind members of the Armed Forces and National Guardsmen who may be called to active duty that they are entitled to vote by absentee ballot.

"Illinois law provides that persons expecting to be out of the county on election day may apply for an absentee ballot", explained

Hess. "And servicemen who have been notified of standby-alert status qualify under this provision".

"Families of military persons presently on duty overseas may request an absentee ballot on behalf of their servicemen. Whether the request is made by the serviceman or his family, it should be mailed as soon as possible to ensure that the ballot is received in adequate time (no later than Monday, Oct. 29) to be voted and returned" said Hess. The only family members who may request a ballot are spouses and dependents.

"Please be sure to call our Absentee Division at (708)360-5912, if you have questions about this procedure", said Hess.

CLC board, faculty reach agreement

An agreement has been reached between the College of Lake County Board of Trustees and the Lake County Federation of Teachers. The agreement was approved by the union membership and by the board of trustees of the college Sept. 21.

Under the terms of the agreement, the teachers' base salary increases to $28,695 in 1990-91 compared with the previous base of $27,500, or an increase of 4.3 percent. The base for the second year of the proposed two-year agreement is $30,250. This figure represents a 5.4 percent increase. Over the two-year period it is estimated that overall faculty compensation will increase by 7.5 percent in 1990-91 and eight percent in 1991-92. These figures include salary step increments as well as the increase in the salary base.

Unlike many other college or school districts, faculty salaries at the College of Lake County include normal costs for medical insurance and related fringe benefits.

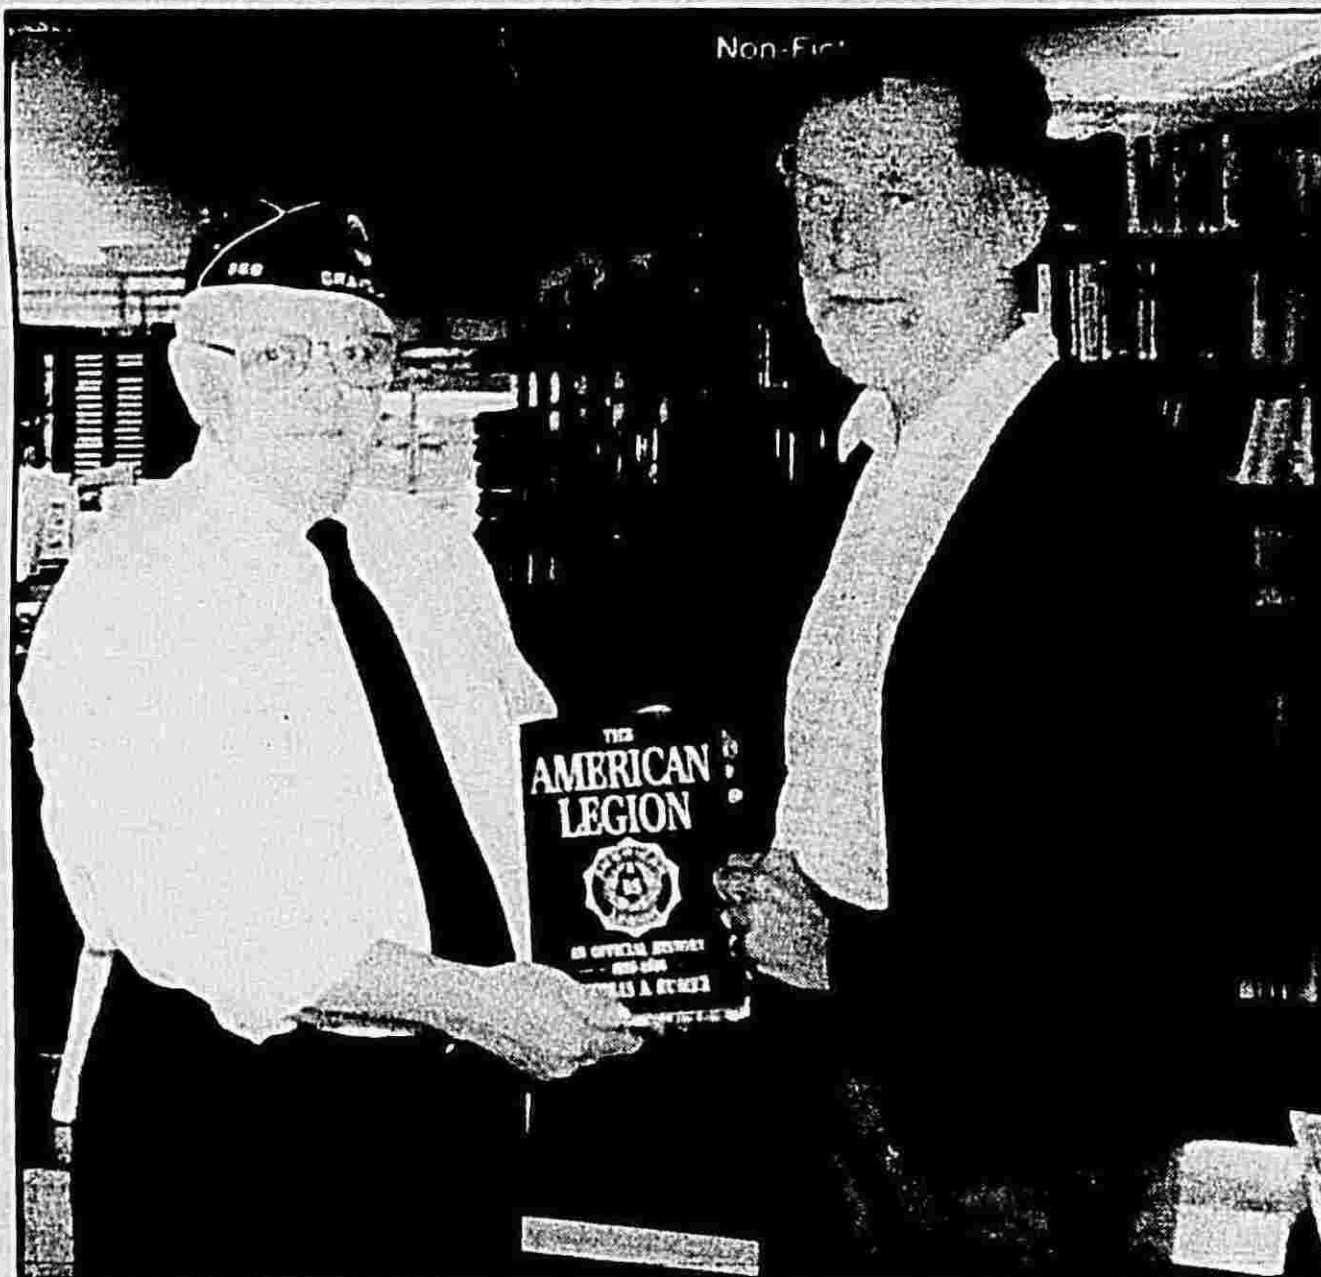

CLC employs 173 full-time faculty. The new contract is retroactive to the start of the 1990-91 academic year.

"The board of trustees is pleased with this new two-year agreement," stated Nan Fairhurst, chairperson of the college's board, and added, "The board commends the hard work and good faith bargaining efforts of both the board and union negotiating teams."

Road closed

Fairfield Rd., from Rollins Rd. to Monaville Rd., will be closed to through traffic by the Lake County Division of Transportation starting Monday, Oct. 15. The road closure and detour is necessary in order to replace the Eagle Creek culvert and will last approximately 30 days. Local traffic will be allowed from Rollins Rd. to the culvert and from the culvert to Monaville Rd. The culvert work site will be closed to all traffic. The detour route, as shown on the above map, is Rollins Rd. to Cedar Lake Rd. to Monaville Rd.

Historical presentation

Ray Deatherage, commander of the American Legion Post 659 in Grayslake, presents Grayslake Library Dir. Robert Topel with a copy of the American Legion's 70 year historical record, covering the years 1919 through 1989. The 70-year-old Deatherage commented, "They started the American Legion the same year I was born, so this is appropriate. The book will be available to all Grayslake Library patrons interested in the history of the American Legion.—Photo by Pat Christensen

Workshop set for potential candidates

With the Oct. 22 Pre-Election Campaign Disclosure Report deadline quickly approaching, the State Board of Elections has scheduled a workshop to familiarize candidates and political organizers with their obligations under state law, announced Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"These seminars are especially important since campaign disclosure laws were amended last year," Hess explained. "The workshop will focus on reporting requirements for the 1990 pre-election reports of campaign contributions which must be filed before Oct. 22."

"Besides explaining how to complete the pre-election report form, board members will also be available to answer questions", Hess continued.

"There is no registration fee for the seminar. Call the State Board of Elections at (312)814-6440 if you have any questions", Hess concluded.

Film Review

"Miller's Crossing" is the best mob picture to hit the big screen since the two "Godfather" epics.

This picture is full of symbolism, fine direction, excellent photography and production, all spearheaded by brothers Joel and Ethan Coen, not to mention the acting kudos that go to Albert Finney, political boss, and his friend and advisor, played by Gabriel Byrne.

The internal struggle for mob power is not a new story, nor is the idea of best friend making time with best friend's girl.

It is the fresh approach of the Coens, such as the start and ending of the movie featuring a battered man's hat, first blowing along the street and finally atop the hero's (Byrne's) head.

The chicaneries of life and the triumph of tainted justice over sometimes not so evil are the backbone of a plot that keeps one's attention glued to the screen from start to finish.

This is not a happy film, nor is it full of a lot of continuous thrills, although some of the gangster fights and the attempted assassination scenes are top notch.

We give it five stars for being one of the best of its kind to slither across the silver screen in many years.

Be There

Those of you who are searching for local works of art might be interested in attending an open house for the art work of Stephen Condrea, from noon to 5 p.m., on Oct. 20 and 21, at the artist's home in Libertyville.

Featured at the home at 625 S. Fourth Ave. will be many oil on canvas paintings of area rural scenes. Everything on exhibit will be for sale.

Speaking of art displays, there will be an art and craft show at Winchester House, also in Libertyville, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 13 in the first floor residents' dining room at Winchester House. Twenty five community crafters will be displaying their wares.

More news for craft lovers! On Saturday, Oct. 20, the Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn. will be sponsoring the Sweetest Day Craft Show from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free for this event which will be held at the new Educational Center of the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service Bldg. at 100 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake, next to the Lake County Fairgrounds.

The Garrick Players, Lake Forest College's student theatrical organization, will present its first production of the 1990-91 Euripedes's "The Trojan Women" on Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 1-3 and 8-10, at the Allan Carr Theatre in Hixon Hall on the college's south campus, in Lake Forest.

The classic musical "Fiddler On the Roof," is back at the Candlelight Theatre in Summit, running through Jan. 13, with the local star that has made a career of playing Tevye in the Chicago area, Leo Peltz.

Chicago's International Festival of Children's Films will be at the Music Box Theatre on Southport Ave. through Oct. 21.

For one of the best in music today, a must see and hear, Harry Connick, Jr., at 8 p.m., on Oct. 19 and 20, at the Arie Crown Theatre in McCormick Place, Chicago.

French ballet

The Lake County Concert Assn. will present Ballet Francais de Nancy at 8 p.m. on Oct. 20 in Waukegan West High School's auditorium. No single tickets are sold but season concert tickets are available at the door or by calling (708)623-3178.

Field set for $100,000 Cup Invitational

The entries for the Oct. 13 running of the $100,000 Dairyland Cup Invitational have been determined. The field of eight distance greyhounds to compete in the richest stakes race in Wisconsin history was compiled by the Dairyland Racing Office.

Two of the greyhounds selected to race in the 3/8ths mile event represent Dairyland. Red Hill Jake, winner of the Dairyland Derby on Aug. 18, and Rodney Ramm who has won 11 of 17 races, are familiar to fans in Kenosha.

The other six have been invited from other tracks and include: Bartie, winner of the prestigious $175,000 Wonderland Derby; Daring Don, winner of greyhound racing's premier event, the Greyhound Race of Champions; Earley Jones-Timberline Stakes Champion; Intergrate, winner of the Connecticut Derby; Sassy Winner, Runner up in the Greyhound Race of Champions and winner of the Tri-

State Classic; Klemma, winner of the Geneva Lakes Derby.

Post positions will be determined in a special draw on Wednesday, Oct. 10.

The Invitational will be the featured race on the Saturday evening, Oct. 13, card at Dairyland Greyhound Park. Fans will have the opportunity to witness eight of the nation's fastest greyhounds racing head-to-head. Post-time is 7:45 p.m. gates open at 6 p.m.

Dairyland Greyhound Park is located at 194 and Hwy 158 in Kenosha.

College set to hold Halloween 'Who Dunnit' mystery dinner

Sign up for a Halloween weekend dinner at the College of Lake County and the mystery comes with the meal. On Friday, Oct. 26, a mystery dinner "Who Done It" (GSX001-001) will be presented on CLC's Grayslake campus. The cost is $35 per person. Dinner begins at 6:30 p.m.

"Boo Who!," the Halloween murder mystery that will premiere that evening, was written by two Chicago women, Mary Beth McMahon and Jacquie Krupka. McMahon is a commercial and state actress in Chicago. Krupka is a member Lifeline Theatre in Chicago and Jeff Award winning composer. Both women are veterans of the Bristol and King Richard Renaissance Fairs.

Sometime after dinner is served, but before dessert, a murder will be announced and the audience will be asked to help to solve it.

Significant Others will take bite of Big Apple

Tanner and company

Jeannie Tanner, formerly of Mundelein, leader of Significant Others, gets ready for debut in New York City. From left, Denise Sebo, Tanner, Billy Wolfe and Brad Omori. Band will be featured in two-night showcase at the Harold Clurman Theatre. Producer Kelly Kane, also formerly of Mundelein, has booked 'Other' to appear at same theater with Kane's production of 'Blackout'.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Kelly Kane, formerly of Mundelein, who was featured on Lakeland Newspaper's Mainstream page earlier, now the executive producer of 2nd Generation, a not-for-profit theatre company in New York City, has made it possible for her close friend Jeannie Tanner to make her Big Apple debut with her band Significant Others in a two-night showcase at the Harold Clurman Theatre on "theater row," in New York City.

Kane, who is responsible for setting up an arts festival in the lobby of the Clurman Theatre where 2nd Generation has been appearing in its fourth season of "Blackout," written by Gary Lenno, has invited her old friend to also appear along with her up and coming band.

Both Kane and Tanner are 1982 graduates of Mundelein High School and both went on in show business careers after Kane wrote and directed the high school's senior review which was adorned with original music by Tanner.

Tanner is also pursuing a bigger and better musical career with her band, which is set to go to New York with their new self-titled album, hoping that the exposure at the theater will gain the interest of New York's record industry.

Meanwhile, Significant Others has been appearing on local CABLE tv and also directing their own video "Just Say Yes," just waiting for their hitch to a star to become official.

'Dracula' at Bowen Park

'Dracula,' the play based on Bram Stoker's famous horror novel, will be presented by the Bowen Park Theatre Company starting Friday Oct. 26 and running Fridays and Saturdays through Nov. 10. As a special Halloween treat, there will be a performance on Sunday, Oct. 31 and a Sunday matinee at 3 p.m. on Nov. 4. The play is under the direction of Mark Heller, the new resident company director.

Brothers' ships meet, sailing in Persian Gulf

Marine Lance Corp. Michael Ostergaard, 19, and his brother, Neal Ostergaard, Jr., a Navy seaman apprentice, formerly of Kenosha and Antioch, both on different United States war ships sailing in the Persian Gulf during Operation Dessert Shield, got a chance to say a distant hello when the seaman's supply ship, the U. S. Portland, pulled up next to the aircraft carrier, the U. S. Cayuga.

The brothers are the sons of Neal Ostergaard, Sr., and the stepsons of Audrey Ostergaard of Antioch.

The Marine aboard the Cayuga recognized the name of the supply ship as it came alongside the carrier and had a morse code hello sent to his brother. He then ran to an upper deck and using binoculars, could see his brother waving his arms frantically from the deck of the supply ship.

The brothers then arranged to talk to each other via the ships' radios, bringing home and family just a little closer in the unsettled situation.

Alternatives to driving to the airport

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Parking in the main terminal at O'Hare is up $12 a day. The road into the world's busiest airport is under perpetual construction. Added together, you may find the cost of parking and the time getting to the airport could exceed the cost of your air ticket and your total flight time! What are the alternatives?

Greyhound has one answer. The "Leave the Driving to Us" people offer a bus from the Holiday Inn in Gurnee right to the airport. The price is $9 for a one-way trip, round-trip costing only $6 more. The kids are free, providing you don't have more than three per adult, which seems like good advice, anyhow.

More convenient, but also more expensive, are the many airport limousine services. You can save some money by asking for a shared car rate, even though you may be traveling alone. You'll have to share your ride with a stranger, but you still have the luxury of being picked up at your door in time for your flight. Rates run about $35 from the Lakes area, with a charge of $3 for each additional person from the same address.

If you still insist upon driving yourself to the airport, you might look into one of the "park and stay" packages offered by many of the airport hotels. Prices start around $40 and include a room the night before (or after) your trip and free parking for the entire time you are gone. You will be taken to and picked up from the airport by the hotel van.

If you're just looking for hassle-free parking, a company that handles many of the "park and stay" packages offers parking only for $24 for up to five days. Your car will be left in a fenced, lighted and patrolled lot on Mannheim Road. You will be shuttled to and from the airport. Ask your travel agent for details.

Want to park for $2 a day and miss all of the O'Hare traffic? Try flying from Milwaukee for a change!

How do celebrities satisfy their snack-time cravings? With cheese! Choosing from the many traditional and specialty cheeses produced in America, celebrities agree—cheese is a star when it comes to snacking.

According to American Assn. of Ill. Gordon Sinclair, a well-known restaurateur (owner of Gordon in Chicago and Sinclair's American Bar & Grill in Jupiter, Fla.) likes nothing better than chipping away at an "old" Blue for a nibble every now and then. But to satisfy heartier cravings, he can be found in his kitchen late at night grinding fresh Parmesan cheese over angel hair pasta. Topped with his homemade pesto sauce, his personal favorite can only be found on his at-home menu.

From newspaper food editors Dotty Griffith (Dallas Morning News) and Robin Mather (Detroit New), popular brie receives two votes as the best-loved cheese snack. Griffith satisfies her cheese cravings simply with her longtime favorite-brie and Carr's Water Crackers.

Mather, on the other hand, prefers a baby brie and pesto combination. She splits a wheel of baby brie horizontally and spreads a layer of pesto between the halves. Then, she lets it come to room temperature before indulging in this mouth-watering combo.

Kristy McNichol (aka Barbara in NBC's popular television comedy "Empty Nest") is another brie fan. She loves to munch on warm brie with green sour apples any time of day. Even when traveling, a waiter from room service is likely to be seen knocking at her door to deliver this special request.

Well-acquainted with a wide variety of traditional and specialty cheeses, renowned Chicago chef Charlie Trotter admits, "I like all kinds of cheese." But after considering endless possibilities, he picks mozzarella as one of his favorites. For his sophisticated snacking tastes, he layers tartlets with mozzarella, black olives and fresh basil.

Julie Rosso, co-author with Sheila Lukins of "The New Basics Cookbook," is another cheese fan. Among her favorite cheese snacks is a savory smoked salmon spread, made by combining cream cheese, sour cream and smoked salmon. With lemon juice, fresh dill and a dash of black pepper, this flavorful cracker spread is a Rosso "basic."

Scoring points with Walter Payton, former running back for the Chicago Bears, is an all-time favorite, cheese and crackers. A few slices of domestic cheddar teamed with crackers suit him just fine.

Col. Bill: Get out and enjoy fishing this fall

Birds are gathering and flock-forming for flights which take them to warmer climes. It's a harbinger of fall confirmed by the calendar. The sad message of colder times to come is offset by Jack Frost's magic paintbrush which brings color to balance the coming dreariness.

At this time of year, matchless hue coordination combines with sunshine and comfortable temperatures to produce nature's restful color softness. So special to autumn.

Our first taste of this color occurred when the Northern Ill. Anglers Assn. held their annual Kankakee River Bronzback Bonanza for River fishing on National Hunting and Fishing Day.

Leaving Bradley, Ill. comfortable Winfield Inn at 5 a.m. we searched for the rustic riverfront fishing location in Bourbonnais, Ill. Expected travel time tripled as, in the dark, we drove in circles, passing recognizable landmarks more than once. But, eggs, bacon and coffee were still awaiting our pre-dawn arrival.

The hotspots anticipated by club members on this special outing turned cool, and the day's fish production was limited. However, the beauty of river and the rocklayered cliffs which border the waterflow made it a day to remember. The scenic Kankakee River is one of Illinois' cleanest streams and the source of our state record walleye, carp and goldeye.

This year's July Kankakee River Fishing Derby attracted nearly 4,000 entries, vying for over $200,000 in prizes. Less than an hour's drive from Lake County attendance can be scheduled in 1991 by contacting the Kankakee Visitor Bureau, Box 1967, Kankakee, IL 60901 or call 1(800)747-4837, for fishing and general year round interests.

When folks ask, "Where are the fish biting?" there's no safe answer, too much depends on the weather, nature impulses and the angler. The Kankakee River seemed disappointing the day we fished at that location, but records exist to prove its abundance at other times.

On the heels of river fishing, we found ourselves about 35 miles out of Peoria, on a privately-owned strip mine area. Our guide was a retiree familiar with these small joining bodies of water left by coal strip mining processes used when the mineral layer is thin but extends for considerable distance close to the surface. The overburden soil is moved by a bulldozing process, followed by the mineral being stripped and removed. Thereafter, the process is repeated on another strip, hence the name stripmining. Following that process, natural water forms small connecting ponds.

Our 14-foot boat was on Trailer Lake, near Galesburg. Two anglers and Bob, our guide, fished from an electrically-driven rowboat. Water is quite clear, temperature is 70 and no wind, a great day for fishing which turned out to be super!

We had only two hours on the water, but they were the most productive fishing hours I can remember for black bass and bluegills. We were on a catch-and-release program so when we got busy, we quit counting.

But, during our first break, we estimated four hefty bluegills in the one-half to three-quarter pound range and 15 bass, three-quarter to three pounds had been boated. Everyone was getting fish, but I possess the secret formula.

It was a resurrected, old, red and white bassierion, a two-inch floater that will dive shallow under line pressure or kick up a pretty good surface splash. No more exciting way to catch fish exists than when they splash at a surface lure, even if they miss, it's a thrill, but not many missed. Bass favored that floater 2 to 1 over lures used by fellow anglers. We estimated about 30 black bass and six bluegill in two hours.

No one wanted to come in, but the scheduled demanded it. The guide said he'd never seen a lure get so much attention. It was a red-letter day for all of us, the kind that makes you know the outdoors offers pleasures that cannot be duplicated, so get out and enjoy it!

Apartment recycling program falls short

Expansion of Mundelein's curbside recycling program to apartment and condominium dwellers has been postponed until November.

Mundelein Disposal, which agreed to expand the program at the urging of the village board, hoped to have it in place by mid-September. This was timed to coordinate with the closing of the village's drop-off recycling center near the public works garage on Crystal St.

Mundelein Disposal had enough recycling bins remaining from the start-up of the village's curbside recycling program one year earlier to supply the apartment and condominium dwellers.

However, it was quickly discovered more work was needed to contact the residents. There also was not the same interest in recycling as among homeowners.

There is also resistance to the $1 per month recycling charge.

Another problem is finding a suitable place for the recycling containers at each complex. Without such a spot that is easy for occupants to find, it is feared recyclers will be discouraged. There is also concern about the loss of the recycling bins.

Posters and flyers explaining the program will be distributed this week and next in hopes of getting a greater response.

Lakeland Newspapers helps Operation Desert Shield

Bill Schroeder, publisher of the Lakeland Newspapers, and John Dunn, of the Lakeland Veterans of Foreign Wars, are initiating "Operation Desert Shield," a drive to help our loyal service people who are now in Saudi Arabia.

The drive will consist of the collection of those "hard to get items" that make the "war" a little easier for our troops. We also will be recruiting our local schools to start letter writing campaigns so our service people will know our children at home know and appreciate what they are doing.

Anyone wishing to help out our service people with a donation, may call John Dunn, commander of the Lakeland VFW post at 708-526-6864 to arrange drop-off.

Any monetary contributions can be made out to Lakeland VFW and sent to Operation Desert Shield, c/o of Lakeland Newspapers, Inc., 30 S. Whitney St., Grayslake, 60030.

Items needed include: paperbacks, magazines, home town newspapers, playing cards, suntan lotion, bug spray, talcum powder, handi wipes, kool aid, toilet paper, soap, toothpaste, disposable razors, small games, cookies in tins, nuts, candy (that won't melt), paper towels and cigarettes and cigars.

No pork products, religious materials, such as Bibles or tracts, political materials, or anything with slightly risqué pictures are allowed in Arabia.

United Way, Kmart donate to schools

The United Way of Lake County distributed the school supplies that are Kmart stores collected during a national Kids Care campaign.

Kmart collected more than 450 items, and the United Way of Lake County distributed them to Lake County schools and selected individuals. Those receiving donated items include: Margery Hart School in North Chicago; East Elementary School in Waukegan; Clearview School in Zion; and other individuals throughout Lake County.

Kids Care is a nationwide effort, developed through United Way's Gifts-in-Kind program, to gather school supplies for children who might otherwise not be able to get what they need.

"Gifts-in-Kind offers us an opportunity to provide materials directly to not-for-profit organizations," said United Way of Lake County President Jan Edgar. "In fact, we've received several comments on how nice it is to see that we are doing so much more for the community than collecting money."

Winter chemicals can destroy car's paint

Winter is just around the corner. Driving will be hazardous. Local highway departments readying its snow removal equipment, and stockpiling mountains of salt and calcium chloride. These ice and snow melting chemicals mix with sand and dirt and accumulate in hidden areas of cars fender wells, door and vehicle frames, moldings, and all sorts of nooks and crannies. The damp mixture rapidly attacks metal areas where paint or undercoatings have chipped or worn away. Oxidation begins and show up as ugly rust. The process continues eating away at the car as long as the caked-up masses of dirt stay moist. During dry weather, the rusting stops but, as soon as it snows or rains, it starts again and will continue this way until it consumes all metal to which it is exposed. Car makers constantly are trying new metal coatings to prevent rust from starting. But, once chipped or scratched away, the bare metal will start rusting at the first sign of moisture. There are steps that can be taken to stop this vicious destruction of both the underside and the painted areas of cars. Next time the car is in the shop for repairs, have them put it on a lift, use their work light and make a note of all the pockets of accumulated mud and dirt. Use a stiff brush or tool to remove it, or try blasting it off with a high pressure water hose. Open the doors and wash out the dirty areas that house the hinges and door mechanisms. Wash the wheel wells and squirt the hose at the point where trim and moldings meet the paint. Open the hood and trunk, and clean the narrow rain channels. Although normally neglected in winter frequent washing is a must. Wait for a day when the temperature is above 32 degrees. Use a good detergent soap and wash the entire exterior of the car. For best winter protection, seal the paint with a coat of high grade abrasive-free carnauba wax.

What have you done for your car lately?

What's more frustrating than the slow grinding sound of a car that won't start? It could be the steady grinding of the starter, which indicates the battery is healthy but the engine is sick.

If the car is slower to start, possibly running poorly after it does get going, it may be trying to tell you it wants attention. One out of three vehicles inspected in a national program failed the emissions check, indicating the need of at least a minor tune-up (sometimes called a "maintenance" tune-up). Other information shows an alarming level of owner neglect of our nation's vehicles. Ninety-eight of cars and 96 of trucks needed some kind of maintenance or repair.

While properly functioning fuel and ignition systems are essential to quick starting, especially in cold weather, condition of the battery and electrical system also plays a critical role. For this reason, a comprehensive diagnostic check of the vehicle can catch mechanical deficiencies before they become disabling.

Generally, say automotive engineers, a vehicle that won't start or run efficiently is one which has been neglected.

Facts and Figures

Things changed in the Phillips household in Chicago in 1899. That's the year Mrs. John Howell Phillips became the first woman in the United States to receive her driver's license—Illinois license number 24.

Four-wheel drive vehicles are not new to the auto industry. Otto Zachow and William Besserdich of Clintonville, Wis., developed the first successful four-wheel-drive vehicle in 1908, says the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn.

National Car Care month celebrates 10 years of public service

National Car Care Month, created in 1980 with its focus on energy conservation, has become a classic example of government, consumer groups and industry working in concert.

The campaign, created by the Ohio Dept. of Energy, now enjoys the participation and support of numerous state and federal agencies. The governors of all 50 states have proclaimed October as National Car Care Month. Consumer organizations such as American Lung Assn., American Automobile Assn. and National Assn. of College Automotive Teachers are playing a part in the growing program.

Coordinated by the non-profit Car Care Council, of Port Clinton, Ohio, National Car Care Month enjoys wide-spread support from automotive industry organizations.

"Clean air and vehicle safety are important aspects of our consumer campaign," says Car Care Council President Donald B. Midgley, "but not to the exclusion of fuel efficiency. Energy conservation was the original thrust of National Car Care Month and it certainly takes center stage at a time like this when our nation's oil supply is threatened."

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has been and continues to be a critical element in the success of National Car Care Month. Agency Administrator William K. Reilly not only endorses the program but also provides agency support.

The campaign encompasses a variety of public awareness techniques from news media reminders about car care to voluntary vehicle checks in shopping centers around the U.S.A. The latter has become a credible source of data from which to reinforce the educational message to motorists. During the past three years of inspections, one out of four vehicles driven through the inspection lanes were unable to pass the emissions check.

Inspectors also found an average (over the three year period) of 29 percent of vehicles with low or dirty oil, 18.6 percent with faulty drive belts and 21 percent with underinflated tires. Coolant needed attention in 43.6 percent of vehicles checked.

"Vehicle neglect affects all of us," concludes Midgley. "It fouls the air we breathe, risks our personal safety and increases the cost of owning and operating a motor vehicle."

"We've done a lot of growing up together..."

...since those days! Now, our own kids are nearly prom age ... and Ed and I have started planning our retirement. In fact, we've even pre-planned our funerals ... and started a pre-payment plan to make sure the kids don't have those expenses to burden them. And, by taking care of it now, we can even fix the costs ... so it's inflation-proof!

SPECIALIST CUSTOMER COMMUNICATIONS

Your company has a group of people whose perception that you care about them, affects your profits, in-house morale and stress levels. They are your...

CUSTOMERS

I am interested in contributing to your customers' satisfaction with your company. Customers like me, because, I like people, and I have good results with them, especially in sticky situations, as long as your goal is to do business with INTEGRITY.

If your company's intention is to deal honestly, and develop ongoing service relationships with your customers, you may be interested in conversing with a specialist in customer communications/relationship building, trouble shooting, collections, and in-house team-spirit building.

You'll find me: Upbeat, Dependable, professional, fast-learning, a quick thinker with folks, PRO-ACTIVE, an encourager of your Customers and my fellows. I'm looking for a place to make a major contribution to customer satisfaction, and to your profit for the next 5 years, or ? Prefer Lake.

NOT CHEAP

If you are interested in sharing your goals & needs to communicate effectively with your customers, with someone with a focus on contributing in that area, please send your address and/or phone # to P.O. 431 Grayslake, IL 60030. Thank You.

SHEPPARD

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 68'-0" x 48'-0"
LIVING: 3180 square feet
GARAGE: 700 square feet

UPPER LEVEL

400-01 SHEPPARD
By Landmark Designs

With five bedrooms upstairs, a full spectrum of family living areas downstairs and abundant storage space, the Sheppard is definitely designed with the needs of a large family in mind.

At its hub is a spacious country kitchen, the heart of family life. Like spokes, the family room, eating nook, dining room, utility room and stairway to the upper floor radiate out from this center.

No need to miss out on family fun while cooking or cleaning up here. Jutting out at odd angles, the twin eating bars are all that separate the food preparation area from a bright eating nook and a family room large enough for whatever you can think of to put in it - a pool table, a ping pong, computer and video game center. Whatever.

French doors provide access to the deck from a family room with a fireplace and its own storage closet, for games, folding chairs, etc. A walk-in pantry is tucked into a corner of the nook. Glass double doors on the opposite side open onto a long, wide country-style wrap-around porch complete with columns and rails.

Utilities hide behind pocket doors in a room that could be an exercise room, a den, study or hobby room as easily as a utility room. A chute from the upper floor feeds into the laundry hamper in the corner.

Columns flank the entry arches to the dining room and living room, bringing an ambience of formality to this area in an otherwise informal contemporary home.

The master suite has all the luxury amenities including a large walk-in closet and a spa, and double vanity in the bathroom. No need to be shocked by a shower water that's too hot or too cold here. The nozzle of this shower is turned on and adjusted outside the walk-in stall.

Four other bedrooms share a compartmentalized bathroom, allowing two or three siblings to bathe and primp at the same time. The unfinished storage area over the garage has a dormer window to match the one in the bedroom next to it. Combining the two rooms would create a large bright play room or studio.

The deep double garage is roomy enough for cars, storage and a work bench.

For a study plan of the SHEPPARD (400-01), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Serious talks with advisers and partners are productive. Morning hours bring happy developments, but the evenings are marked by a change in plans. You have a sound approach to business and financial goings-on now. You're a hit socially.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Dating gets serious. A lucky break careerwise gives you added impetus toward success, but a co-worker plays the part of a sore loser. A child could have difficulty with a teacher. Publishing interests prosper. Some receive invitations for travel.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Despite an unexpected expense, you should end this week on top financially. Serious creative work and study is favored. A family member is manipulative. You're able to budget your money wisely regarding household repairs. Watch your tongue after dark.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Despite schedule changes, you'll still find this a productive work week. New opportunities arise which you should take advantage of. Judgment is good. Part of this week should be devoted to study and serious mental work. You'll also enjoy sports.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A friend is a good listener now. Be quick to capitalize on a lucky break in domestic interests. Be sensitive to the feelings of those easily hurt. You should take the initiative in reaching others, but be mum about the details of this week's important business developments.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You have a valuable contribution to make at a group meeting. Financial luck is with you. In business, though, money talks are somewhat tricky. Accent conservative tactics regarding career interests. You feel good about yourself now.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You make good sense when it comes to idealistic matters now, but in business you need to be more practical. Don't fight over little things now. Doing one thing well should satisfy you now. Try not to scatter your energies or you will overtake yourself.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A partner serves as a ballast to you at this time when you tackle with the wind socially and may become oblivious to what others are feeling. A confusing array of details just means you'll need added determination to cut through red tape and get back to fundamentals.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A familiar haunt to relax in helps you settle your thoughts. You needn't get unduly agitated over trifles. Attend to academic matters. You may be inclined to be a bit foolish where romance and financial interests are concerned now.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Realize the stake you have in a relationship, and don't let small grievances lead to major rifts. Heart-to-heart talks are favored. You'll have to rise above distractions to make a success of your job now. The self-disciplined will reap financial rewards.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Let priorities rule the week. Conscience should have the upper hand over temptation. Some of your friends just don't think the way you do. There may be some necessary errands to do for a relative. Changes should be made around the house.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You do have a friend who qualifies as trusted confidante, and you should listen to this person. Meanwhile, don't be the victim of misinformation. Making money is not the problem today, but you should be wary as to how you spend it.

Tart apple tarts

8 puff pastry tart shells
6 Granny Smith apples or similar tart apples
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup heavy cream
2 Tbls. lemon juice
2 Tbls. sugar icing sugar
cinnamon

Peel, core and chop two of the apples. Place them in a saucepan with the water and simmer for 8 to 10 minutes until tender. Remove from the heat and blend in the cream, lemon juice and sugar. Beat this mixture until creamy.
Core and slice but do not peel the remaining four apples.

Place 1 Tbl. of apple cream in each tart. Arrange 4 or 5 slices of apple on top and add a second spoonful of apple cream over the slices. Bake the tarts for 15 to 20 minutes until the pastry is golden. Cool then dust lightly with icing sugar and cinnamon. Serve slightly warm.

FALL VEGETABLES ARE HERE!

Pumpkin flower fritters

- 12 large, firm flowers of pumpkin (or cucumber squash)
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 2 tsp. finely chopped mint (optional)
- 1/4 cup chopped salted peanuts

Heat a light vegetable oil in deep fryer. Blend together the egg, milk, flour, pepper and mint to produce a very smooth, thin batter. The flowers should be clean and dry. Dip them in the batter coating completely. Sprinkle a pinch of chopped nuts into the center of each flower then drop them into the hot oil. Fry for three to four minutes until golden. Using a slotted spoon, gently lift out the flowers and drain them on a paper towel. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Baked pumpkin

- 2 lbs. pumpkin
- 8 Tbls. butter or margarine
- 4 Tbls. honey
- 3 ounces preserved ginger, chopped
- salt

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Cut the pumpkin into serving pieces; de-seed and peel the wedges. Melt the butter in a small saucepan; stir in the honey and ginger. Score the pumpkin wedges with a knife and pour on the honey, butter and ginger mix. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Put the wedges in a 9x12-inch baking pan with 1/4-inch of water in it and bake in the oven at 350 degrees for one and one-half to two hours, basting often.

Apple and celery salad

- 1 medium apple, diced
- 1 cup (3 to 4 stalks) celery hearts, diced
- salt and pepper
- 2 tsps. pimiento, minced
- 1 tsp. chives, minced
- A little lemon juice
- mayonnaise

Peel, core and dice the apple; cover the diced pieces with water and lemon juice in a bowl. In a separate bowl mix the remaining ingredients together; drain and add the apple; add enough mayonnaise to bind the salad together.

Hot apple soup with mushrooms

- 4 Tbls. butter
- 1/4 cup scallions, chopped
- 2 slices of bacon, chopped
- 2 cups peeled and chopped apple
- 4 cups chicken stock
- 1/2 cup white wine
- pinch each of nutmeg, pepper and salt
- 1/4 lb mushrooms, chopped
- 1/4 cup heavy cream
- cinnamon

In a large heavy pan, melt the butter and sauté the scallions and bacon for five minutes until transparent. Add the apple and two cups of the chicken stock. Bring to a boil, reduce the heat and cook for 10 minutes until the apple is soft. Pour the mixture into a blender and puree until smooth. Return to the pan and add the remaining stock, wine, nutmeg and seasonings to taste. Bring to a boil then reduce the heat to a simmer.

To serve, ladle the soup into bowls and place one tablespoon cream and one tablespoon chopped mushrooms in each one. Dust lightly with cinnamon.

Vegetable soup

- 2 cups split peas
- 1 cup barley
- 2 quarts water
- 3 fresh tomatoes, peeled and chopped or 1 small can tomato sauce
- 1 large sweet potato, peeled and cubed
- 1 or 2 parsnips, chopped (optional) (adds excellent flavor)
- a handful of fresh parsley
- a handful of fresh dill
- herb salt and pepper to taste

Place all the above ingredients in a large soup pot-cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for two hours. Adjust seasoning. If soup seems too thick, add more water.

Divine apple cream torte

- 5 or 6 large apples
- 1 8 oz. cream cheese
- 2/3 cup maple syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 egg
- 1/2 to 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. mace or nutmeg (optional)
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 2 Tbls. maple syrup or sugar.
- 1 pie crust

Beat together cream cheese, egg and 1/3 cup maple syrup and vanilla. Pour into pie crust. Peel and slice apples, mix with 1/3 cup maple syrup and cinnamon. Spread on top of cream mixture. Mix chopped walnuts with two teaspoons syrup and sprinkle on top of apples. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes. Serve warm or at room temperature.

Election judge classes set for October, November

"The class schedule for Election Judge Update Training has just been released," announced Lake County Clerk Linda Hess. "As in the past, classes will be offered in various locations in Lake County. And we try to schedule classes at different times of the day to accommodate everyone," said Hess. "Each Update class consists of a single two-hour session.

"The classes are unlimited to the number of people attending," she said. "But you must be a trained judge to enroll. That is, you must have completed the 'Basic' training class. Judges must call the College of Lake County at (708)223-1111 to enroll.

There is no fee for the training, but registration is a must," Hess explained.

Judges who complete the update class earn an additional $5 on election day. The schedule for Update classes is as follows:

Vernon Hills Community Services Bldg., Prairie View

Monday, Oct. 22 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.;

Wednesday, Oct. 24 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Lakeshore Campus, College of Lake County, Waukegan

Tuesday, Oct. 23 from 2 to 4 p.m.; Friday, Oct. 26 from 1 to 3 p.m.; Monday, Oct. 29 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

College of Lake County, Grayslake

Thursday, Oct. 25 from 1 to 3 p.m.; Tuesday, Oct. 30 from 10 a.m. to noon; and Saturday, Nov. 3 from 10 a.m. to noon.

"I want to emphasize that you must register for the classes. And registrations are only taken by the College of Lake County," said Hess.

For further information call Supervisor of Election Judges Scheduling Sharon Mivshek at (708)360-5928.

CLC approves audit report

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees accepted the auditor's report for fiscal year 1989-90 at a special board meeting held on the Grayslake campus.

The audit, prepared by Peat, Marwick Main of Chicago, was approved for submittal to the Illinois Community College Board. Total expenditures were $25,166,717, while total revenues were $28,659,258 in the unrestricted operating funds of the college.

"The college exhibits a very strong balance sheet, and it is something this community college can be proud of," said

Thomas J. Stahlschmidt, engagement partner at the firm. "The college is prepared to meet the growth it is now experiencing and which should continue to the year 2000 and beyond," he added.

Stahlschmidt commended CLC's management for the steps that were taken to improve record keeping and financial reporting. The reorganization and remodeling of the business office was noted to be a great improvement over previous conditions. Stahlschmidt said CLC was given a good report card and there are no conditions that were left unchanged from the recommendations of the last audit.

Hess announces twp. coordinators

Bob Boness of Round Lake Beach and Jack Germann of Round Lake Hts. are serving as the township coordinators in Avon Twp. of Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

Hess announced 30 coordinators in all sections of the county will assist her reelection campaign.

"Volunteers are the backbone of any campaign," Hess said, "and I am fortunate to have so many wonderful people donate their time and energy to my campaign."

"These township coordinators are telling their friends and neighbors that I have done a good job as their county clerk, and when voters hear the message from their neighbor it really hits home."

Warhawks, Panthers closing in on playoff spots

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Just when you thought the sports world would take a break from "magic numbers" with the end of the baseball pennant races, that old term makes a comeback.

In this case, it is for the right to stay alive for that elusive bid for high school football post-season tournament play.

Ten teams have at least a mathematical shot at making the playoffs, but only two are sure bets: North Chicago and Richmond-Burton.

Lake Zurich, a playoff team a year ago and Mundelein are winless heading into week seven.

Here's a look at the final three weeks for the 10 still hopeful to play on Wednesday.

The top team:

This honor obviously goes to North Chicago. The Warhawks, with a dramatic 20-13 overtime win over Antioch, notched their sixth straight win. "The team showed me some character in coming back," North Chicago Coach Amos Jones said. The Warhawks face winless Mundelein Oct. 13 for their Homecoming game before finishing out the regular season at Zion-Benton and hosting Libertyville. With a one-game lead on Lake Forest and three to play, it's up to the Warhawks.

Next best: Richmond-Burton and Round Lake

After stumbling in the season opener in a 20-14 upset loss to Johnsburg, Coach J. Randy Hofman's team has played steady football. The Rockets used a strong ground game to subdue rival Harvard 21-8. The win clinched a tie for the Big Eight Conference title for the 2A school and probably another playoff birth with a 5-1 record. The Rockets have two non-conference games the next two weeks as they travel to Dellfield, Wis. to face St. Johns Military Oct. 12 and then host Madison High of Edgewood, Wis. before finishing out the BEC campaign at Hampshire Oct. 27.

Round Lake, like the Rockets, has won five straight after losing the season opener. The Panthers now have the option attack in high gear. Led by QB Mike Bragg and a host of running backs, Eric Rodriguez led the attack in a 39-6 win over Lake Zurich while Garrett Horn scored four touchdowns. Round Lake can clinimize 3-5 Grant from the playoff picture with a win at home Oct. 12. The Panthers, 4-0 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, are at Marengo Oct. 19 before hosting Grayslake to finish out the season.

Keeping their heads above water: Grayslake and Libertyville (4-2). The Rams used what coach Bill Johnson said was a "winning ugly" approach in a 12-10 win over Johnsburg. Steve Stedlecki is emerging as the Rams big-play threat, catching a 38-yard strike from QB Tom Culhane to decide the game. Now the Rams must wait for word from Wauconda regarding the teachers' strike. Johnson said he would much rather take on the Bulldogs run-and-shoot offense than take the week off. The schedule seems to favor the Rams' chances for a second straight playoff spot, as winless Lake Zurich is next with a season-fine showdown with Round Lake looming.

For Libertyville, the Wildcats seemed to be a shoo-in for the post-season ball, but losses to Lake Forest and Stevenson following an injury to quarterback John Garwal have derailed the Cats. The Wildcats are at Warren Oct. 12.

The rest: Warren, Antioch, Carmel, Grant, Stevenson, and Johnsburg all face that magic number of "one" at 3-3. Another loss and it's wait to next year. And even if they win their next three games, the teams must hope to match the final playoff qualifying point total.

CARMEL: the Corsairs need a win streak and the best time to start one would be against Holy Cross. The East Suburban Catholic Conference tilt features two teams with 2-2 records in league play. Carmel, led by Jerry Foster, bounced back from a loss to Joliet Catholic with a 21-7 win. Ahead: at Marian Catholic, which is tied for first in the ESCC and at home against St. Patrick.

WARREN: the Blue Devils have featured the long runs by Paul McKissick in the last two games, winning over Mundelein but dropping to Zion-Benton. Warren hosts Libertyville in first must-win situation Oct. 12 before challenging second-place Lake Forest and hosting Stevenson.

ANTIOCH: the heartbreak loss of the season goes to the Sequoias. The team, paced by two touchdowns from QB Dan Pappadakis, led North Chicago for most of the game, only to see the Warhawks rally in OT on a pass from Johnny Johnson to Mike Herrod. Ahead: at Fenton Oct. 12, Mundelein Oct. 20 and home against Zion-Benton Oct. 27.

STEVENSON: Just as the experts write off the Pats, here they come again. Such was the case in a 23-6 win over Libertyville. The Pats, though, face Lake Forest Oct. 12 before Fenton Oct. 19 and Warren Oct. 26.

GRANT: "Anytime Grant and Round Lake get together, it will be a bloodbath," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said. The neighborhood clash resumes Oct. 12 with high stakes for the Bulldogs. Losers of two straight, the team will go back to Aaron Foszcz at quarterback. Ahead: The Bulldogs close out the season at home against Johnsburg and Marengo.

JOHNSBURG: The Skyhawks, like the Bulldogs, are fighting for respect after sub-par 1989 seasons. Don Kibbe led a valiant JHS stand on defense against Grayslake, gaining a fumble and an interception. The Skyhawks host Lake Zurich Oct. 12 before closing out the season on the road against Grant and Marian Central. The Hurricanes, by the way, also find themselves in an unfamiliar 3-3 position.

WAUCONDA: the Bulldogs are the only team whose playoff fate is not tied to the football field. Instead, it is tied to the bargaining table as players wait for settlement of a strike. Another forfeit of the Oct. 12 game against Grayslake would knock the Bulldogs from the goal rookie Coach Bob Kasper set in August of six wins.

Fighting for more yards

Antioch running back Aaron Martin tries to escape the grasp of North Chicago defensive back during North Suburban Conference game. # No-huddle Panthers ready for Grant's challenge Scouts from Grant, Grayslake and Marengo were given more to worry about as they watched the Round Lake Panthers demolish Lake Zurich at the Bears' Homecoming Saturday.

The Panthers used a no-huddle offense and a standout game from senior Garrett Horn to dominate winless Lake Zurich 39-6.

Horn scored four touchdowns, on three runs of two, and two 31-yard runs and an interception for 29 yards.

"Horn had a great game on offense and defense," Coach Mike Dunn said.

As for the rest of the offense, the Panthers effectively used a no-huddle strategy. "We are working toward a plateau. We are pretty good at it," Dunn said.

The Panthers, who face neighborhood rival Grant at home Oct. 12, won for the fifth straight time after opening the season with a loss to McHenry. Round Lake was eliminated by Belvidere in last year's playoffs as the Bucs are known as the kingpin of the option. Round Lake is 4-0 and on top in the Northwest Suburban Conference, 5-1 overall. Grant comes into the 7:30 p.m. tilt at 2-2, 3-3.

"I think we can do more things," Dunn said of the option.

Round Lake led 25-0 at halftime and never looked back. Tom Minkalis scored the first two touchdowns, on runs of seven and four yards. In the second quarter, Horn added a two-yard TD run and then had a 29-yard interception return.

Horn later had two 31-yard runs in the fourth quarter for scores.

For Grant, the Bulldogs are facing a must-win situation following a 7-0 loss to Marian Central. A second quarter run by Erick Stenger held up for the Hurricanes.

"We had a new quarterback, a new center, a new fullback and a new left tackle. We were a little inconsistent," Grant Coach Rob Kruse said.

Senior Aaron Foszcz will return at quarterback for the Round Lake contest after spending time at running back.

"They're awesome and on a roll, but I want to be optimistic," Kruse said of the Round Lake game.

For Lake Zurich, the Bears' frustrations continued as they sought their first win. The consolation touchdown came on a five-yard touchdown run by Scott Calacci. Lake Zurich is at Johnsburg Oct. 12.

CHS aims to keep playoffs alive

Plain and simple, that is what the Carmel football team will be shooting for when the Corsairs host Holy Cross during the annual Homecoming festivities Oct. 12.

"Our problem now is to remain in focus. We have not been able to put two good games together," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Indeed, this has been a win one, lose one campaign for the Corsairs, who are 3-3 through six games, 2-2 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference. Holy Cross also is 2-2 in the ESCC, but 4-2 overall. Game time is 7:30 p.m. in Mundelein.

"They have a much more consistent offense. They're a ball control team and a good kicking team," Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel is coming off a strong 21-7 win over Notre Dame Friday.

Jerry Foster scored the first and last touchdowns for the Corsairs, on runs of three and 28 yards. The Carmel ground attack was the strong point, registering more than 300 yards for the second time this fall.

Quarterback Todd Stachle, who was injured when he took a jarring hit in the Joliet Catholic game a week earlier, returned to the lineup.

Foster opened the scoring with a three-yard run. After Notre Dame tied the game in the third quarter, Jermaine Williams broke free on a 66-yard jaunt. Chris Mohr added the second of three extra points for a 14-7 Carmel lead.

Following the Crusaders contest, Carmel will host a game on Saturday, Oct. 13 from 8 to 11 p.m.

Rams' Jackson shines at end, special teams

The time: fall of 1987.

A freshman named John Jackson reports to the Grayslake Community High School football field, ready to begin his high school career.

What position should the Grayslake coaching staff, then led by Harold Jahnke, place this prospect?

"I did not know where I wanted to play," Jackson said three years later.

Now Jackson is glad the Ram coaching staff decided he would be a perfect defensive end prospect.

The Rams could not be happier with Jackson and the rest of the bend-but-not-break style of defense the visitors and a wind-swept field threw at host Johnsbury Friday night. For it was Jackson, all 6-3, 205 pounds of him, which stripped the ball loose from a Johnsbury punt receiver. Jackson's fumble recovery led to Grayslake's second touchdown in a 12-10 win.

For Grayslake, the win keeps the Rams in the playoff hunt in a 4-2 position after nine games. For Johnsbury, the Skyhawks, now 3-3, must win the rest of their contests to get into the playoffs. Grayslake improved to 3-1 in Northwest Suburban Conference action.

Punter Mark Sneyd turned in another fine job for Grayslake after being credited with being a big factor in a win over Marengo the week before.

"We count on Mark for a lot of things and his punting has helped us. Field position is so important in high school football," Grayslake Coach Bill Johnson said.

Just ask Jackson. His fumble recovery came with Grayslake trailing 10-6. Although the Rams lost six yards on the first play and quarterback Tom Culhane misfired on a pass, he picked up 13 yards, bringing the ball to the Johnsbury 38 on a third-and-16 play. He then found Steve Siedlecki open down the sidelines for a 38-yard strike. Siedlecki beat Johnsbury's Duane Schwabauer to the ball. The Johnsbury safety had had an interception earlier in the game.

Johnsbury, hoping to bounce back from a shellacking they took at the hands of Round Lake (a common problem among Northwest Suburban Conference teams this fall), dominated the outset. An interception by Schwabauer set up the first score, but Johnsbury had to settle for a 3-0 lead on a 26-yard field goal by Andy Davis.

Culhane & Co. immediately answered with a 10-play drive which featured a key eight-yard strike to Siedlecki on a fourth-and-four play. Culhane capped the drive with a four-yard TD run and a 6-3 Grayslake lead with 1:38 left in the quarter.

Mike Kramer broke free in the Grayslake secondary less than a minute into the second quarter for a 57-yard run.

Despite the loss, Johnsbury Coach Hap Farlow has positives to point to. One of the biggest was wearing No. 72. Senior defensive tackle Don Kibbe dominated the line and had an interception and a fumble recovery. He can also point to the play of quarterback Scott Dullberg, who came in for Matt Chrisman to direct the second-half attack. "I think he had an outstanding game," Farlow said of Kibbe.

CLC offering ACEP class, basketball clinic

The College of Lake County will offer a new two-part American Coaching Effectiveness Program (ACEP) leader level course. The ACEP certification is a requirement by the Illinois High School Assn. of those coaching at the high school level without a teaching certificate. The ACEP leader level course consists of two parts, a coaching workshop and sports medicine clinic.

Sports medicine (PED 228), an eight hour Red Cross course which is required for the ACEP certification, is offered in day and evening sessions. Classes available during October, November and December. The course fee is $16.05.

Interested coaches can attend a basketball clinic (GST 802-001) on Thursday, Oct. 25 from 7 to 9 p.m. The fee is $20.

For more information call the Physical Education Center at (708)223-6601, ext. 481.

Lake County bowlers induct hall-of-famers

Grayslake into the Lake County Women's Bowling Assn. honored four time bowlers during a ceremony in Antioch today.

Four were inducted into the Hall of Fame. Irene Russell, bowling since 1952, and elected as director of the LCWBA in 1958, holding titles of vice president, second vice president and secretary.

In 1959, she was the first bowler to receive the John Picchetti award for her contribution to the sport. A Highwood resident, one of her more enjoyable moments in bowling came when she would help the veterans at the North

Chicago Medical Center participate. Lois Hartman, a Salem, Wis. resident, recalled her daughter would drive to Salem and pick her up so she could bowl in leagues in Fox Lake. She, too, enjoyed bowling with the veterans.

"I enjoyed the rapport with the patients. They were all willing to try," Hartman said. Hartmann served as a LCWBA board member in 1983, contributed to the Youth Bowling Program as

Looking for yards

Johnsburg quarterback Matt Chrisman (1) hopes he will get a solid block from Rick Miller as he heads upfield in contest against Grayslake. Rams won Northwest Suburban Conference contest 12-10. Grayslake faces Wauconda pending resolution of the Wauconda teachers' strike and the Skyhawks host Lake Zurich Oct. 12.

Bears to begin practice in Waukegan's bubble

Over the next three weeks, motorists should not be alarmed as they watch a bubble being constructed in Waukegan.

The Chicago Bears and the city of Waukegan have announced a deal which will bring the NFL team to Waukegan. The team could begin practice in its new indoor facility as early as Nov. 1.

Bears spokesman Doug Green said the Amhurst Business Park site will be three to four acres off Rte. 41. The bubble facility will have astroturf. "It is a close location and the city (Waukegan) was willing to cut through the red tape," Green said.

It was raining the first two days of the life of the Bears in Waukegan, an example of why the team needs an indoor facility.

Team President Mike McCaskey has met with Mayor Haig Parivonian. The Bears and the city held a press conference to announce the deal Monday.

"You bet we'll market them. We might even call them the Waukegan Bears," Jack Simonian, an aide to Paravonian, said.

The city and the Bears have a three-year agreement.

Simonian said the Bears are familiar with the Waukegan area, as many have played the area golf courses such as Midlane and HeatherRidge.

The next three weeks will see cleaning land for the site.

The Bears are the only Central division team not to have an indoor facility. They have practiced in Georgia, Wisconsin and the University of Notre Dame when whether at Lake Forest College became inclement.

The Bears may also move their corporate offices to the site.

The Corporate Woods in Vernon Hills and Lambs Farm had been mentioned as competing sites.

After a day in which players refused to practice and the coaching staff agreed that conditions at Lake Forest were not acceptable, McCaskey asked for help to find land for the proposed site. It was out of that request that the Bears began their move to Waukegan.

Revenge tops Vikes agenda

The Lake County Vikings, after a week off, will get back in action Oct. 14 when they host the Palos-Orland Park force.

The game at Round Lake High School will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Lake County started the year with four straight wins before losing to Palos in a hard-fought game 7-3. The Vikings have lost games to DuPage 39-0 and Racine 28-7 since for a 4-3 record.

Panthers hope to peak for sectional tennis meet

The best time to hit one's peak in tennis is right before sectionals, and that is just what Round Lake Coach Pat Costello is hoping for.

The Panthers are coming off a fourth-place finish in the Northwest Suburban Conference meet won by Johnsbury last weekend. Round Lake will be hosting most of the NWSC teams and McHenry at its sectional Oct. 12 and 13.

"We had a very good tournament. Four of our top five players earned medals. We were just two matches away from a tie for first," Costello said.

Carin Stockwell, a senior, finished second at No. 1 singles, losing to Hillary Frelk of Lake Zurich, 6-2, 7-5. Her sister, Kathy Stockwell, a sophomore, finished third at second singles, falling to Marengo's Rachel Flemming 6-4, 6-3.

At number one doubles, the tandem of Rachell Neff and Jenny Kozjorowski earned a second-place finish, losing to the Johnsbury duo of Marcy Barack-Kristi Sheehy 7-5, 6-4.

The second doubles team was third.

"We've pretty much had a young team," Costello said. "But we are playing our best tennis of the year so far."

Johnsbury won the tourney with 20 and two-thirds points, followed by Lake Zurich with 18 and Marian Central with 16. Marengo had 10 points. Grayslake and Grant did not place, and Wauconda did not compete because of the teachers' strike.

The Bears won the overall team total.

Grayslake's Denise Reidel was shooting for a perfect NWSC record, but fell short as she lost to Carin Stockwell in the first round 6-3, 6-1. Reidel finished with a 9-5 record, 6-1 in the NWSC.

Hall of Fame

(Cont. from Page 45) coach and promoter. She rolled high series of 689 and 691 in 1979 and had a high game of 278 in 1978.

Art Wertz, representing the late Cecilia Wertz, recalled Cecilia used to bowl 25 to 30 lanes a night on Saturdays at the alley where the Antioch Moose lodge is located. Cecilia Wertz was inducted for superior performance. She helped organize the Antioch Ladies Classic league in 1984 and served as vice president of Antioch Classic for five years.

She rolled a 707 series on Feb. 4, 1974 and won second place in the Lake County bowling tournament in 1967.

Mary Gleason of Libertyville was inducted for meritorious service. She started bowling in 1940 at Libertyville Recreation Center with her mom, Georgia "Jo" Suydam. She organized the Sunday Night League Classic at Bertrands in Waukegan in 1950 and was secretary until 1958.

A 25-tournament career in national bowling tourneys, she was a delegate for both state and national conventions.

She chaired the banquet held with the patients at North Chicago Veterans Medical Center.

A Chicago White Sox fan, she is a recipient of the Joyce Sedlar award from the Diamond Classic League.

Previous inductees into the LCWBA include Velma Johnson and Jeannie Robinson.

Labeling groups battle over the minds of minors

by BECKY JOHNS
and STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

When considering the topic of music censorship, concerned parents, record companies, legislators and psychologists ask themselves if rock's influence on children is strong enough to deserve labeling it.

Some say yes; others, no. The problem with reaching a conclusion lies with a few choice questions. First, who determines when children are mature enough to hear explicit lyrics? And second, who determines what is explicit?

"I feel that nine and ten year olds are not mature enough to handle it, while children 18 and older are more experienced and can relate," said State Rep. Bill Peterson (R-Prairie View). He said he supports a rating system similar to the current system used for motion pictures.

Ann Lynch, president of the National Parent Teacher Assn. (PTA) agrees.

"We advocate protecting children too young to understand what they are hearing from hearing it. I am all for exposure, as long as it is at the appropriate time and in a controlled setting," she said.

"If I see an 8-year-old kid wearing a Ninja Turtle shirt buying an Andrew Dice Clay album, I won't sell it to him because I don't think he is mature enough," said Phil Baughman, manager of Camelot Music at Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan. "It's my right as a retailer to make that decision."

Lyrics considered "explicit" often depend on "community standards," the opinions of the people living within the community. The trouble with community standards, said Alligator Records President Bruce Iglauer, is they vary from person to person.

Some retailers, though they feel they have the right to sell a product to customers, wonder if they have the right to determine why.

"I don't feel that it is our job as a corporation to determine what is good or what is bad. When I decide to not sell that Dice Clay album to a kid, that has nothing to do with censorship," Baughman explained.

He said that is why the Camelot chain reversed its decision to refrain from selling labeled albums to children under 18.

Phil Baughman, manager of the Camelot music store at Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan, said the company retracted its labeling policy because it didn't want to and listening to, but they also stated voluntary labeling is the only way to assure First Amendment rights.

"If each state had its own laws, then record companies could never keep up. And a federal law goes against freedom of speech. We feel record companies should do it one their own because they have a responsibility to their consumers to let them know that they are buying," said Lynch.

"I don't know what's offensive to you," said Iglauer, who said he feels stickers "guessing" what a customer will find offensive are very different from stickers simply stating, for example, that the Parents' Music Resource Center (PMRC) finds certain material contained on the album offensive.

"Consumers have the right to know exactly what is in a product, just like listing contents on a soup can. It is the same with records. A label should tell exactly what is on that record," said Lynch.

State Rep. Peterson felt the record companies know they're selling profanity, but do it because teenagers will buy the music anyway.

"I think they know it's wrong, but they're laughing about it all the way to

Labeling addresses musical smoke, not fire

by BECKY JOHNS

Who needs legislation when the companies have begun censoring themselves?

Some states considering labeling laws have dropped their bills with the recent agreement by the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) for standardized labeling, but the "chilling effect" of self-censorship remains. The RIAA did not really do this because of personal feelings against the lyrics, although not everyone in the recording industry approves of 2 Live Crew. It agreed to standardize labeling because of reason that what is satanic is often a matter of opinion. One "expert" on satanic messages claims both Bruce Springsteen's "Dancing in the Dark" and Elvis' "Heartbreak Hotel" include satanic messages when played backwards. Probably any church hymn will have them, too, depending on who's listening. Is there an objective way to decide what's satanic and what's merely gibberish? Bruce Springsteen and Elvis? I don't know of any teenager who plays his records backwards, as if many of them have record players anymore, and cassette players certainly don't play backwards. Subliminal messages are hard enough to hear forward, but in reverse? It's not hard to understand, however, how parents could be concerned with groups which do advocate satanism.

The PMRC and other groups supporting labeling point to the Judas Priest case, where two teens committed suicide after listening to a record that advocated suicide. The problem with this case is that doctors studying it have admitted the teens were probably disturbed before listening to the music, or the message would not have appealed to them. Would a well-adjusted teenager kill himself because someone told him to?

The PMRC is not an evil group trying to destroy American's first amendment rights, it is just a group of concerned individuals who are heading in the wrong direction. Labeling rock music will only treat the symptom, rather than the cause, of the problems the PMRC is trying to address. The real issue in labeling is not music's influence on children, but parent's and peer's influence on children, and the parent's responsibility to educate their own children about sex, violence and satanism rather than farm the job out to legislators and blame their failings on rock musicians whose voices are no longer their own.

Commentary

pressure from panicking parents and overzealous but well-meaning groups such as the Parents Music Resource Center (PMRC).

It is certainly a noble pursuit to keep children from hearing about sex, violence, and profanity before they are old enough to understand, but labeling is not the answer. Rock music is only the smoke in front of the fire. Labeling will not keep children from hearing about sex, which most children learn from their friends as much as parents would like to think otherwise. It will not keep children from hearing profanity—the best place for a child to pick up profanity is also at school. It will not keep children from seeing violence; that is also available in school, on television, in the movies. A child's biggest influence after he reaches school age, according to psychologist and author Phil Zimbardo, are his peers, his friends and classmates. If the PMRC will censor music for its influence on children, it must also censor other children for their influence on each other.

Satanic messages are also not a good reason for labeling records, for the simple

'We advocate protecting children too young to understand what they are hearing from hearing it.'— Ann Lynch, president of the National Parent Teacher Association

back down to prolabeling pressure.

Iglauer, who Chicago-based label carries mainly blues artists, said attempts to keep children from hearing labeled albums would be futile.

"It will have exactly the same effect as making it illegal for minors to buy alcohol to keep kids from getting drunk," he said. "It will only make that music more in demand because kids want to hear what they're not supposed to hear."

John Harnagel, a social worker with Lake Villa Elementary School Dist. 41, agreed with Iglauer.

"Labeling will not make one bit of difference. It's just like the labels on cigarettes," he said. "Labeling only makes adults feel better."

He added that he feels rock music does not have a negative impact on kids like many people feel it does.

"I don't feel rock music has any more impact on kids now than when I was that age. The only difference is that stuff is so much more out in the open, but that is the entire society, not just rock music," Harnagel explained.

On the other hand, organizations like the National PTA are in favor of labeling, although on a voluntary basis.

The PTA's official statement stresses they are in favor of labeling so parents are aware of what their children are purchasing the bank," said Peterson.

One aspect of labeling could backlash and affect local public libraries. For example, would a local library rent a labeled tape to a minor?

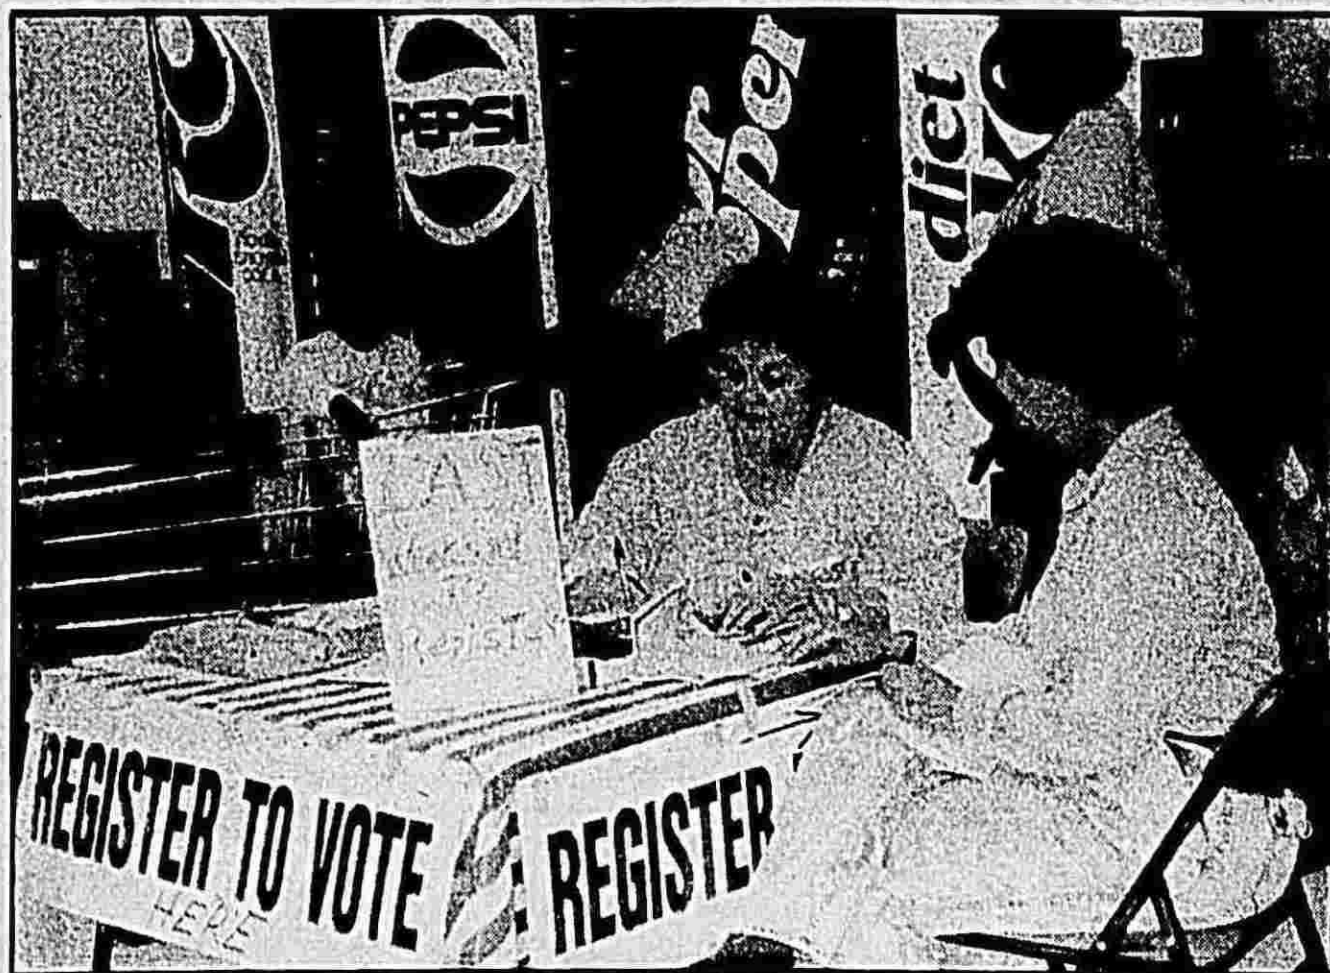

Fox Lake District Library Head Librarian Harry Bork stated that public libraries are required by law to develop material selection policies with the librarian and the library board and should keep community standards and tastes in mind.

"However, libraries usually also adhere to the American Library Association's 'Freedom to Read' statement and 'Library Bill of Rights,' which discourage censorship," he stated.

He also stated most public libraries have policies that allow patrons to request removal of material they consider inappropriate. The Fox Lake Library, according to Bork, does conform to the 18 and older viewing restriction on "R"-rated movies.

Though the PTA and PMRC claim a victory with voluntary labeling, the battle over rock music is still far from over. While politicians, record companies, and action groups slug it out in public warfare, the music groups and their fans can only wait to see what the outcome will be.

Lakemoor officials review request to rezone sand pit

by DONNA DUNCAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Lakemoor village officials have continued a public hearing on an annexation request by Jack Pease and Jim Tonyan, to bring the 71-acre Spruce Lake sand pit into the village and to rezone the site to one-acre estates.

The request was supposed to be heard Thursday at a public hearing, but was continued because of no quorum. Two of the six trustees were out of town and an annexation needs five votes, explained Lakemoor Village Atty. Michael Poper.

The petition is for a 10-year conditional use permit to continue mining the pit, located on Rte. 12, in unincorporated Lake County, with reclamation and eventually to end up with a 34-lot subdivision around a lake, called Spruce Lake.

Tom Hartz, planner for J. Pease Construction Co., said the Spruce Lake subdivision could be built as soon as four years, depending on the economy, or as late as 10 years.

Lakemoor zoning and planning officials already approved the request, with some conditions. It now awaits approval of the full board.

Medical center seeks volunteers

North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center is looking for volunteers who could work three to four days a week. The volunteers are needed during the hours of 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

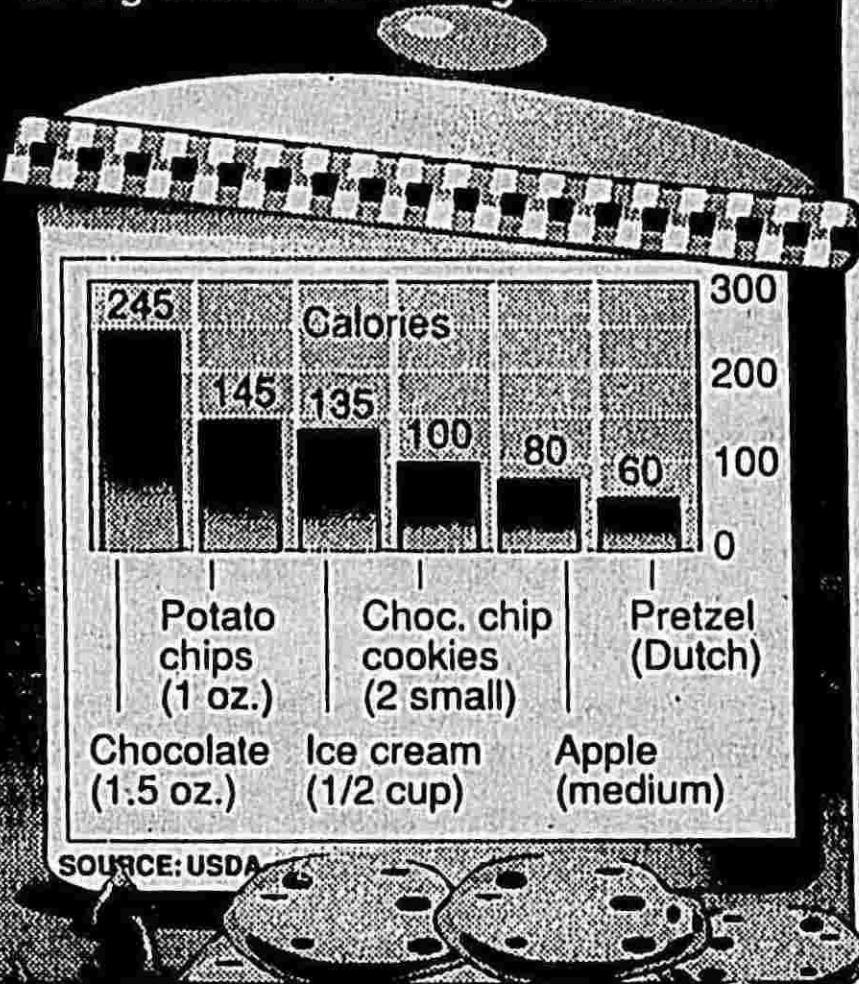

These volunteers must have office skills that include filing, typing and basic computer data entry.

Anyone interested should contact Kathleen McHugh, chief, voluntary service, at (708)578-3714.

Award CLC $5,000 grant

Benefit Trust Life Insurance Co. has awarded a $5,000 grant to the College of Lake County Foundation to help further the mission of the college.

The company relocated to Lake Forest from Chicago last September. Benefit Trust Life Foundation Chairman M. Ray Haase said they have discovered a quality employee pool through the CLC placement office. "We have been particularly impressed with the quality of new employees who have attended the College of Lake County," noted Haase.

Within the past year, Benefit Trust Life Insurance Co. has hired 22 new employees through CLC.

For more information about CLC's job placement program call Patricia Kirchherr, director of placement and cooperative education, at (708)223-6601, ext. 611. For more information on the College of Lake County Foundation call (708)223-6601, ext. 400.

United Way provides funding

The United Way of Lake County's Board of Directors has approved one-time funding for a family home day care program, offered through ChildServ.

In an effort to help economically disadvantaged families become self-sufficient, ChildServ will provide child care for 14 children, specifically targeting at-risk Hispanic children. The child care will be provided through a network of licensed day care providers who will contract with ChildServ and receive ongoing training and supervision. Funding from the United Way of Lake County will help provide training to individuals to help them become licensed daycare providers.

The United Way of Lake County currently provides funding to 91 programs offered through 41 member agencies. For more information, or to volunteer contact the United Way of Lake County office at (708)816-0063.

Sheriff Grinnell fights crime with new program

Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell has announced that Lake County citizens who would like to join him in the fight against crime are invited to become associate members of the Illinois Sheriff's Assn.

The Illinois Sheriff's Assn. is a professional and educational organization dedicated to the preservation of peace and the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of Illinois, according to the sheriff.

The associate membership program was initiated to provide citizens with an opportunity to lend their support to more effective law enforcement and to better help local sheriffs protect the lives and property of citizens.

"We are inviting the public to help us better serve them by joining the fight for effective law enforcement," Sheriff Grinnell said. Lake County residents should soon receive membership applications in the mail. "It is difficult to get an application to everyone who might want to join the Illinois Sheriff's Assn. as an associated member," the sheriff said.

"If you don't receive an application by mail, you can come by the sheriff's department, or you can send your name, address, and check for $25 for individual membership, to the Illinois Sheriff's Assn., P. O. Box 263, Sherman, IL 62684," he added.

Craft Show

Winchester House will host an art and crafts show on Saturday, Oct. 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the residents' dining room on the first floor. Twenty-five crafters will be displaying their wares. A bake sale will also be available. For further information call Lois Mielke at (708)326-4366.

FOOT NOTES

Dr. Lee M. Tisa, Podiatrist

Board Certified

HEEL PAIN

Almost everyone suffers from pain in the heel at one time or another.

Heel spur syndrome is a common cause of heel pain. If you experience a sharp, shooting type pain or a dull aching bruised sensation in your heel when you first put weight on your heel in the morning or after prolonged sitting, you may be suffering from heel spur syndrome.

This condition consists of two components—inflammation of the plantar fascia, the ligament that runs along the bottom surface of the foot from the ball to the heel and an actual spur which is a bony projection on the bottom of the heel.

Not all heel spurs hurt; it is the inflammation of the structures that cause the pain, and thus, treatment is aimed in reducing the stress on the foot and decreasing the inflammation. Treatment for heel spur syndrome usually involves rest, a series of steroid injections, anti-inflammatory oral medication, physical therapy, and orthotics (custom made arch supports) which relieve stress on the plantar fascia.

Persistent heel spurs are treated, however, surgically by removing the bony spur and releasing the plantar fascia. If you are suffering from this condition, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO-COST CONSULTATION to discuss your condition and treatment options.

Carmel has seven Commended Students

Officials at Carmel High School has announced that seven students have been named Commended Students in the National Merit Scholarship Program. According to Sr. Diane O'Donnell, BVM, the school's principal, a Letter of Commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corp., which conducts the program, will be presented to these seniors.

Commended Students are John P. Brudenell of Libertyville, Amy J. Graff of Mundelein, Edward A. Haravon of Buffalo Grove, Jacob R. Heidenreich of Lake Zurich, Megan M. Janiszewski of Wauconda, Jennifer Muraski of Mundelein, and Julia M. Wolff of Lindenhurst.

About 35,000 Commended Students nationwide are being honored for their outstanding performance on the 1989 PSAT/NMSQT, which places them in the top five percent of more than one million students who entered the 1991 Merit Program by taking the qualifying test. Commended Students scored slightly below the level required to continue in the 1991 competition for Merit Scholarships, but they have shown exceptional academic promise.

Seeks Volunteers

The Division of Court Services Volunteer Program in Lake County has positions available for people who are seeking experience in volunteering for the court system. The volunteer program originated in 1971 to assist the Adult Probation Dept. with the supervision of persons on probation. Training classes are scheduled for November for any prospective volunteers. For more information call Robyn McGarrigle at (708)360-7379 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

How to protect plants from the big chill

Protect tender plants, such as roses, some perennials, a few bulbs, and container plants, from a sudden early chill by following a few of these hints.

Roses—One of the best ways to winterize roses is to pull peat moss, bark, sawdust or similar mulching materials up around the lower rose canes.

Protect the canes to a height of approximately six to eight inches. Then, next spring, about the time you prune the roses, the mulching material can be raked away.

Perennials—Many common varieties of perennials are very hardy and will survive practically any typical cold winter weather west of the Cascades. However, you can provide additional protection for more tender varieties simply by covering the plants with evergreen boughs, straw, peat moss or other mulching materials. As soon as the weather moderates, the coverings can be removed.

Bulbs—Once planted in the ground, the spring-flowering bulbs will not need winter protection.

However, some of the summer-flowering bulbs that have been left in the ground, such as dahlias, glads, or calla lilies, might need additional winterizing during really cold weather. Mulch the planting areas with bark, sawdust, peat moss, straw or other such materials.

All these bulbs need to be planted in soil that's well-drained, because the combination of wet soil and cold weather is really detrimental to them, especially over winter.

Tender plants—Any of the early flowering or tender plants, such as rhododendrons, camellias and azaleas, may need special protection.

Sometimes it's best to cover them with some type of cloth material.

Begin by packing three or four foot stakes around the plant. Next, drape burlap, old blankets or similar materials over the stakes so that the covering does not come in contact with the plant's foliage. This provides a blanket, but still allows air to circulate through and around the plants.

SUPPORT YOUR HOME TEAM!!

Your local merchants try their best every day to provide quality merchandise and services at the lowest possible price.

They contribute heavily to the community services we all share, and work with all of us on community projects.

These merchants deserve our support and our business.
Support your home team and everyone here will be a winner.
